SIAM'S KING SAID TO BE MURDERED

Official Silence May Be Due to Revolution at Monarch's Capital.

CROWN PRINCE IS UNPOPULAR

Assassin a Trusted Attendant Who Did the Deed in the Royal Palace.

HACKED TO PIECES BY INFURIATED TROOPS

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, Aug. 5.—An unconfirmed but very circumstantial report was printed here this afternoon that King Chulalongkorn of Siam was assassinated at 11 o'clock this morning in his palace at Bangkok, the capital.

The Siamese legation in this city has heard nothing official about the alleged tragedy and discredits the rumor. The minister felt certain that if the story were true he would have received some word from his government.

If the story of the murder be true, the crown prince, Maha Vajiraviedh, is now king, unless the assassination has been turned into a revolution against the throne, and will, of course, abandon his project of visiting the United States. That such a revolution has occurred is not impossible, since the young prince is said to be unpopular at home, and it would account for the silence of the Siamese government.

According to the tale printed here today, the murder was committed by one of the king's attendants, and one of the men who had been especially trusted and respected by the royal monarch and his family. The king had just entered the royal chamber, followed by his retinue of royal servants and attendants. He walked partly through the room, and turned his back toward the entrance, when one of the attendants quickly stepped behind him, drew a long, sharp, ugly-looking knife from his bosom, and plunged it into the body of the king.

The monarch gave a quick gasp of pain, and sank to the carpeted floor, breathing out a few disconnected words, which those in the room failed to catch in the excitement which followed. The palace was thrown into a flurry at once. Royal physicians and nurses were summoned, but the king was beyond all help. He died within a few minutes after the cowardly attack.

Quick vengeance was meted out to the assassin. The officers summoned the soldiers of the guard to the palace, and while some of the attendants held the regicide, the soldiers rushed into the room. The men stepped back, and the fellow was literally cut and hacked to pieces.

The murdered king was about 40 years of age. There have been rumors for some time past of internal strife in the kingdom and only this morning cable advices from Bangkok stated that a body of troops numbering 2,000 men had been north to punish the Shans, who recently attacked and seized the town of Phrae.

The crown prince was born in 1880 and proclaimed crown prince in 1895. He has traveled extensively and passed several years in England, where he studied under private tutors until fitted for Sandhurst military school, through which he passed. He has since studied at Oxford, of which he is an under-graduate. It was in order to give to his education a few practical finishes that he contemplated his trip to the United States.

TRACY'S COMPLIMENTS TO SHERIFF CUDIHEE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SPOKANE, WASH., Aug. 5.—The sheriff's office at Davenport received a message from Preston, stating that Harry Tracy spent all day Monday at the home of L. B. Eddy, a rancher on Lake creek, three and a half miles south of Fellows.

The outlaw made his appearance Sunday evening and took possession of the place. He is reported to have been there last night, leaving about 7:30.

Pinned to the well on a farm about a mile north of Odessa, where apparently Tracy had watered his horses, the following note was found today:

To Whom it May Concern.

Tell Mr. Cudihee to take a tumble and let me alone, or I will fix him plenty. I will be on my way to Wyoming. If your horses were any good I would swap with you. Thanks for a cool drink. HARRY TRACY.

INFANTRY HELP MAKE AN ARREST

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Shenandoah, Pa., Aug. 5.—The peace of this troop-protected town remains unbroken. The unsettled feeling apparent for a few days continues, however. It was a lively day at brigade headquarters, where all the staff officers were busy in connection with the movements of the troops and in keeping in touch with the situation in the entire county.

There were many rumors of trouble, but excepting at Girardville, where a workman was shot and slightly injured, nothing serious occurred.

Gen. Gobin says he will not send additional men until there is need for them. It is not unlikely, however, that a battery and another troop of cavalry will be in the field by the end of the week.

Probably the most important development in the region today was the arrest of two wounded Lithuanians, who participated in the riot last week. They were taken into custody by constables surrounded by a platoon of infantrymen and conducted through the streets under a strong guard.

Each Shot in Foot.

The prisoners are Antony Klimovitz and Stanislaus Zukowski. Each had been shot in the foot and was unable to walk. The constables feared trouble would occur if they attempted to make the arrest themselves and upon their suggestion Gen. Gobin sent a platoon of Company I, Twelfth regiment, to protect them.

The soldiers formed a line around the houses and the Lithuanians were carried from the houses and placed in an open wagon. A crowd of foreigners gathered around the soldiers and followed them and the prisoners to the office of 'Squire W. H. Shoemaker, where the prisoners were given a hearing, along with a fellow countryman, Waldo Rowenski, who was arrested late Saturday night. The principal witness was Thomas R. Beddall, deputy sheriff, who was in the riot. He testified to having deliberately shot Klimovitz and Zukowski. The three men were held in $2,000 bail each, and in default were taken to the jail at Pottsville.

Soldiers Get Into Trouble.

Report was made to headquarters today that three members of Company I, Twelfth regiment, were chased by a crowd of men last night on the outskirts of the town and that the soldiers sought refuge in the house of 'Squire McGuinness, at Frackville. The soldiers left the camp without leave after Gross parade. They did not carry firearms. On the road to Frackville the soldiers were seen by men in that neighborhood, and soon 20 other men carrying pistols and clubs gathered with the intention of assaulting them. The soldiers fled and the crowd attempted to run them into a mine hole. The militiamen met the 'squire, who took them to his home and kept them until today when they returned to camp. They are likely to be court-martialed.

SCRANTON, PA., Aug. 5.—The Dickson colliery of the Delaware & Hudson Company in Green Ridge resumed operations today with returned strikers. Superintendent Rose says the company has been cutting and loading coal at this mine for two weeks.

REBEL LEADERS SHOT.

A Number Also Condemned to Long Terms of Imprisonment—One Fought Under Gomez.

PANAMA, Aug. 5.—The revolutionary generals, Antonio Suarez Lacroix and Juan Vidal and Col. Julian Lecama, who were sentenced to death by a government court-martial, have been killed by shooting at Barrigone camp, on the Magdelena river. Other revolutionists were condemned by the same court to terms of imprisonment, the longest of which is for 25 years.

Antonio Suarez Lacrois belonged to one of the oldest and richest families of Colombia. He was a born fighter and during the Cuban revolution he fought for two years with Gen. Maximo Gomez. Before he was shot he said:

"Four individuals from Bogota are responsible for the sacrifice of our lives, and, perhaps, for those of many others."

KING EDWARD RETURNS TODAY TO HIS CAPITAL

Ready to Receive Crown on Saturday, According to Program.

ABBEY REHEARSALS ARE VERY ELABORATE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, Aug. 5.—King Edward will land at Portsmouth and entrain for London at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. His train is due to arrive in London at 5:30. His drive to Buckingham palace will be by an extended route instead of the direct way, so that the public may have an opportunity to see and congratulate the sovereign.

The king has commanded that Coronation day and the anniversary of his coronation be observed as collar day, a day of ceremony at the English court, when the courtiers wear the collars of their orders.

It is expected that the king's return to the capital will be marked by a great street demonstration en route to Buckingham palace. The trip to London will be made on a royal special train, but there will be no invalid chair or other special arrangement, as it is felt that the king is fully equal to the fatigue of the journey.

Rehearsing the Ceremony.

On account of the approaching coronation most of the volunteers are at present undergoing their annual training at Salisbury. It has been decided that they are to leave their camps August 8 instead of August 9.

The rehearsal of the coronation ceremony in Westminster abbey this afternoon was the most largely attended and elaborate which has yet been held. The king and queen and other very important personages who were not present were represented at the proceedings by substitutes. Col. Brocklehurst, equerry to her majesty, impersonated King Edward, and Lady Suffield, one of the ladies of the bed chamber, took the part of the queen. Even the servants were drilled in their duties connected with the robing arrangements, and the pages carried out, theoretically, their functions of coronet-carrying and train-bearing.

Although the religious and musical features of the ceremonies were omitted this afternoon, the instructions and repetitions by those who are not perfect in their parts caused the rehearsal to occupy about the full time planned for Saturday's ceremonies.

Second Operation Story Denied.

A story afloat for several days that a second operation for appendicitis will be performed on the king after the coronation is denied here. According to all authoritative reports, the king is making an excellent recovery, and it is considered unlikely that his physicians would allow him to endure the fatigue of the coronation ceremony if another operation was impending.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The governing committee of the stock exchange today decided to close the exchange next Saturday in honor of the coronation of King Edward.

TEACHERS ARE AGAIN ON BRITISH GROUND

By L. W. STRAYER.
Staff Correspondent.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph teachers' tour is done with the continent and today returned to London after an absence of 17 days. Three days were spent in Paris, where we had the most interesting period of sight-seeing during the whole journey. Most of the tourists left the wonderful and beautiful French capital with reluctance.

The party, indeed, left two of its members in Paris: Miss Edith J. Latshaw and her mother, Mrs. Sophia Latshaw, will go from Paris to Munich, where Miss Latshaw will study music.

Our voyage across the channel today was a smooth one. There was no seasickness in the party and the tourists are hoping that they will be spared that infliction on the homeward voyage. We arrive here in the midst of renewed preparations for the coronation, but will miss that spectacle. We go tomorrow by rail to Edinburgh, and, after a day there, will cross Southern Scotland to Glasgow. On Saturday, the coronation day, we will sail from Glasgow for home. On our return to New York headquarters will be at the Fifth Avenue hotel, where letters should be sent.

GREAT RACKET WAS RAISED OVER BURGLAR

Family of George Myers, Acting Under a Supposition, the Cause.

EAST END POLICE HAD A BLIND CHASE

Cries of "Fire," "Murder," "Help," "Police," accompanied by the "bang, bang, bang" of a revolver, called a squad of 25 policemen eight firemen and several hundred citizens to Lake street, East End, last night. A burglar was supposed to be at work. After every place in several squares behind which a man might hide had been looked at, it was decided that if the burglar had been there he had got away long before the crowd arrived.

George Meyers and his family had been away all of the evening, and when they returned to their home, No. 345 Lake street, about 10:30 o'clock, the daughter thought she saw a burglar looking over the side of the roof. She screamed, and while all were looking some of the family announced that they heard a man walking on the tin roof. This was accepted as the truth and then all screamed:

"Fire," "Murder," "Help," "Police."

One of the next door neighbors was the first to respond to the cries. He brought his revolver with him and promptly got into action. Reinforcements arrived about the time he was out of ammunition, and a second battery was got into action by the next door neighbor on the other side.

About the time the revolvers were empty and one corner of the house filled with lead a policeman came around the corner. He evinced considerable interest in what was going on and finally said after he had looked the house over that he guessed he had better get some help. The policeman then did the disappearance act.

Firemen then began to arrive. They

CUBA WILL ASK FOR TWO LOANS AMERICAN CASH

$4,000,000 to Aid Sugar Industry, and for Army $35,000,000.

YANKEE FINANCIERS SKITTISH OF PLAN

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—The state department today received a cable dispatch from Minister Squiers giving the text of the loan bill passed today by the Cuban senate. It authorizes the executive to negotiate a loan of $4,000,000 American gold at a minimum rate of issue of 90 per cent of the value thereof, payable in a period not exceeding 30 years and at a maximum rate of interest of 5 per cent. This loan is for relief of the sugar industry.

The executive shall likewise negotiate within six months another loan of $35,000,000 American gold on the same basis of time limit, rate of issue and interest as the first loan, from which he shall set aside in bonds a sum sufficient for taking care of the first loan, applying the cash to, first, the payment of the indebtedness and obligations legitimately contracted in benefit of the revolution by the corps commander of the liberating army after February 24, 1905, and prior to September 10 of the same year, and to the payment of the indebtedness and obligations which the revolutionary government itself, or through its legitimate representatives, may have contracted previously in foreign countries.

Cuba's Authority Doubted.

Government officials in Washington are trying to figure whether or not the proposed loan would be a violation of the Platt amendment, which was adopted by the Cuban constitutional convention.

HAVANA, Aug. 5.—The secretary of the Cuban house of representatives said today the bill authorizing the raising of a loan had not even been discussed in the house, much less passed by that body. On Saturday the senate committee reported the bill to the senate and it was accepted in its entirety as a basis of discussion. Yesterday the bill was brought up in the senate and discussed clause by clause, 9 of its 13 clauses being approved. The bill passed the senate today.

A bill similar to the senate bill was presented in the house on Friday and referred to a committee, which has not yet reported it. The bill is like the senate bill in that it provides for two separate operations for raising money—$5,000,000 at once for agricultural relief and $30,000,000 later to pay the army. It is claimed that this bill has a majority in the house.

American Financiers Skittish.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(Special.)—Financial interests were very skeptical today respecting the possibility of floating a Cuban loan in this country. While a 6 per cent bond, based on unquestioned security, might be marketed here, the chances for a 5 per cent bond, secured only by an uncertain revenue return, it is thought would be slight indeed.

The chief consideration appealing to investors in such a loan would be the moral effect of having the United States government, in a measure, behind it. That is, a Cuban loan approved by the administration of the United States might receive support from American investors, notwithstanding their disinclination to take the bonds of any foreign country other than Great Britain, Germany, or some government of equal rank; but no loan over the legality of which there is the slightest dispute could be offered here with any chance of success.

MARQUIS DI RUDINI ILL.

Arrives in New York on Wilhelm der Grosse and Taken to Hospital.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—While crossing the Atlantic on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, which arrived today, the Marquis di Rudini of Italy was taken ill of appendicitis. The ship's physician called Dr. W. T. Bull and Dr. Roswell Park, passengers, in consultation. When nearing this port a wireless message was sent from the vessel and an ambulance was at the dock to convey the patient to a private hospital.

The physicians say he is not in a serious condition and an operation may be avoided. The patient is the eldest son of the former premier of Italy.

MURDERER OF ACHSAH KING UNDER ARREST

Joseph Allen Is Captured by Detective Roach at Findlay.

ALLEN'S BROTHER TOLD OF HIS GUILT

Confessed That He Killed King Woman in a Fit of Jealousy.

ALLEN FAINTED WHEN PUT UNDER ARREST

Joseph Allen, the man Detective John Roach has been hunting for around Steubenville for the murder of Achsah King on July 23 in Curran's saloon at Sixth and Wylie avenues, was arrested by Roach yesterday at the house of Allen's sister in Findlay, O. Allen fainted when placed under arrest.

One story is that Allen has consented to return to Pittsburgh without requisition papers and that Roach will have him here this morning; and another is that Roach took his prisoner to Columbus for the purpose of holding him until he receives the necessary requisition papers.

How Arrest Was Brought About.

Allen's arrest was effected through his wife's attorney, W. L. Bedell of Steubenville, who is securing a divorce for her. He learned from her that the man she is seeking to be released from had confessed the murder of the King woman to his brother, Levi Allen. Attorney Bedell at once informed Superintendent of Detectives Philip Demmel. Detective Roach was detailed to go to Steubenville, where the Allens live, and he secured from Levi Allen, after "sweating" him, an admission that Joseph had made a confession of the King murder. This admission was secured last Sunday afternoon.

Roach Did Some Sweating.

Joseph had then left Steubenville, but after some questioning Roach learned of the murderer's whereabouts in Findlay. Roach "sweated" Levi so hard that he was able to get the letter which revealed the hiding place of the murderer. The letter had been written on Thursday and gave his assumed name and address.

According to the story Joseph told Levi he killed the King woman in a fit of jealousy. The two were well acquainted with each other. Allen told his brother that he met Achsah King in Curran's saloon on July 23 and asked her to go out with him. She refused and told him that she did not want to have anything more to do with him. He asked her if she meant it and she assured him that she did. He then struck her with a small knife, twice, once on the ear and then on the side of the neck, which wound proved fatal.

How Joe Allen Escaped.

Allen told Levi that he left the scene of the murder and walked down the street, passing two policemen. He went to another place and after dropping the knife into a closet, washed the blood off his hands. He then fled from Pittsburgh, and arrived in Steubenville the next day. He tried to reconcile his wife, who is suing for a divorce. She refused to have anything to do with him.

He became angered at this and went to his brother's. Allen intimated to his brother that he had just killed one woman, saying: "I have just killed one woman and I will finish Lil before I go."

He then related the details of the King murder and left Steubenville before he had a chance to kill his wife. His brother and his wife could not keep the information to themselves. Mrs. Allen's attorney learned of the confession and sent word to Superintendent Demmel, who detailed Roach to run down the clue.

Identification Will Be Easy.

After Allen left Steubenville he slipped back there again and saw his brother. Levi then gave him a revolver and some money to make his escape. He went to Findlay, where he wrote to Levi that he had arrived safely.

Detective Roach told Levi that he would be held as an accessory to the murder for aiding his brother to escape. This frightened him so that he handed the detective the letter from Findlay.

Pittsburgh detectives say they will be able to have Joseph Allen identified by 25 persons who saw him with the woman on the day of the murder. Nellie Reed of No. 27 Ross street, in jail as a witness, will be asked to identify him and Mrs. Mary Lowe, 60 years old, is another. She was in the little back room of the saloon when Nellie Reed entered and was followed a moment later by the King woman and the murderer.

Another Murder Hinted At.

Allen never worked on the river. He was employed in Pittsburgh for some time as the driver of a garbage wagon.

Mrs. Allen denied at Steubenville last night that she had given the information that led to her husband's arrest. She said that it was his brother and sister that did the talking about him. Mrs. Allen has not lived with her husband for over a year. Allen was formerly in the army. It was stated last night that Joseph Allen had been connected with the death of a man named Headley, who was killed along the Monongahela river some time ago.

GRAIN FREIGHT CUT 10 PER CENT IN NORTHWEST

President Hill Tells Farmers This Scales Railroad's Profits by One-Fourth.

NEED OF NEW MARKETS

He Tells Grangers They Must Turn Eyes Toward East—Should Own Railways Themselves — Second Conference Held at Colfax.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 5.—The second freight rate conference between the railway presidents and the farmers was held at Colfax today.

The special train carrying President J. J. Hill of the Great Northern, President C. S. Mellen of the Northern Pacific, President A. L. Mohler of the Oregon Railway and Navigation, and subordinate officials, remained at Rockford last night, reaching Colfax about 10 a. m. today.

The day's program included a public meeting with speeches by the railroad presidents. In the afternoon a rate conference was held, and at its conclusion, President Mohler returned to Portland and Presidents Hill and Mellen left for Lewiston.

In his speech, President Hill said:

"I don't know what you're going to do unless you turn your eyes to the east for new markets. The railroads have made wheat more valuable in Minnesota, and possibly we can help you here. Let the people and the railroads be good neighbors and fair to each other. I would like nothing better than for the people along the road to own the railroads themselves. There is no reason why they should not."

President Mohler of the Oregon Railway Navigation Company announced this afternoon that the roads on or before August 15 would give a 10 per cent reduction on wheat shipments to the Pacific coast.

President Mellen announced that a 10 per cent reduction would be given on wheat shipments to the east.

President Hill said this would cut off one-fourth of the entire profits of the railways.

CATHOLIC SOCIETIES DISCUSSING FRIARS

Bishop McFaul Declares There Is Some Truth in Stories About Protestant Propaganda.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—The American Federation of Catholic Societies met this afternoon and evening at the Young Men's Christian association hall. In the afternoon, after the addresses of welcome, the convention went into executive session and organized.

It was evident from the tenor of the remarks in the afternoon that the convention would not regard the manifesto of Archbishop Ireland warning them against a discussion of the Philippines.

At the evening meeting Bishop McFaul was the principal speaker. He said in part:

"The calm, intelligent observer must admit that some of the statements made in the public press regarding the situation in the Philippines were either incorrect or exaggerated. There was, nevertheless, a very substantial foundation of truth in most of the reports, which amply justified the strictures made upon those accountable for the abuse of power."

RAILROAD MEN TO BE SURGEONS

NORTHWESTERN TO ESTABLISH A SCHOOL OF INSTRUCTION.

Will Be Taught Principles of First Aid to Injured—Each Train to Carry Medicine Chest — Care for Injured in Wrecks.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Train employes of the Northwestern road are to receive instruction in medicine and surgery, so that they shall be able to set a broken leg and bind up the wounds of the injured.

W. A. Gardner, general manager of the company, now has the plan under consideration and together with Dr. Owen, chief surgeon of the company, is arranging the details. The purpose of the project is to make every train crew on the Northwestern system, competent to give first aid to the injured in wrecks.

Railway surgeons have estimated that 50 to 75 per cent of the deaths which now occur from injuries received in railroad wrecks, would not occur if the injured received skillful and intelligent aid at once.

It is proposed to establish a school of instruction where train crews can be taught rudimentary surgery, become familiar with many of the remedies used for the purpose of temporary relief, and learn what materials are used and how use them. In this connection each passenger and freight train will carry a medicine chest, well stocked with all the materials which the physicians think essential for the purpose. Employes to receive instruction are engineers, firemen, conductors and brakemen.

One of the main things to be taught is the art of binding up a wound after having cleansed and disinfected it. This alone, it is claimed, will result in saving many people and making the lot of many more comfortable when injured.

were members of No. 27 company. They surrounded the house and informed the Meyers family that if the burglar had not escaped they would see that he did not. Meyers wanted to go into the house and look out of an upper window, but his family tearfully protested, saying they knew he would be killed if he even approached the house.

Interest was increased about this time by a small boy saying he had seen something move. He could not be found when some men wanted to question him. Then a fireman went and telephoned for the police, as the idea became prevalent that the officer who had been seen early in the game had got lost.

A patrol wagon loaded with officers from No. 6 station, under Inspector Robert Gray, arrived, and after that officers came from all directions. There were 25 there in all. Every house in a square was visited. Every stick and stone was examined. No burglar was found. If he was there he disappeared while the Meyers family was screaming.

SLAV KILLED BY AN OFFICER'S BULLET

Donora Police Use Revolvers to Quiet Riot at a Wedding Celebration.

George Voniski, a Slav of middle age, died at the Mercy hospital at 9 o'clock last night from a gunshot wound in the abdomen, said to have been inflicted by a policeman at Donora while trying to stop a riot at a Slavonian wedding celebration Monday night. In the same riot Michael Flabonik was shot through the arm and Joseph Roshiski through the right heel.

With Voniski and Flabonik two of the officers started for the Mercy hospital yesterday morning, but just below McKeesport Flabonik, who had been apparently weak from the loss of blood, jumped to his feet and sprang from the door of the baggage car in which he was being carried. He was seen to roll down the steep embankment to the river, but when the train was stopped no trace could be found of him. Roshiski's wound was slight.

The whole affair was the upshot of a Slavonian wedding on Monday afternoon on the South Side. The celebration was carried to Donora, where the newly married couple had many friends, among them the wounded trio. Good cheer was abundant and liquor flowed freely. Before the celebration was ended there was a general fight and the police were summoned. Chief of Police John Summerville of Donora, with Officers J. Freckles, W. L. Eaton and J. B. Johnston, tried to arrest the disorderly Slavonians. One of them succeeded in removing the handcuffs and with a number of his companions attacked the police. The officers resorted to their revolvers for protection. In addition to the Slavonians named a number of others were slightly injured. More arrests are to follow.

WORKED OLD GAME.

Thieves Get Jeweler Bradsley's Attention, Then Rob Store.

Burglars visited the down-town section of this city yesterday. The jewelry store of J. A. Bradsley, at No. 1329 Penn avenue, was robbed of 200 rings valued at $400 in a mysterious manner. Early in the morning a small man dressed in a light suit entered the store and looked over the stock. Not finding anything that suited him he asked Bradsley to come out and get a drink.

The jeweler refused to do this and the young man left the store. When he departed a broad-shouldered man entered the store and asked Bradsley to come to his place a few doors away and look at a clock that needed repairing. They had some conversation about the clock and when Bradsley stepped out on the sidewalk to see where the stranger lived, someone entered and robbed the show case.

STRIKE IS ENDED.

Glass Bulb Workers' New Wage Scale Agreed To.

Secretary John L. Dobbins of the American Flint Glass Workers' union yesterday received notification from President Charles E. Voltte that the Libby Glass Company and the Fostoria Glass Company at the meeting in Toledo, O., agreed to the advanced wage scale granted by the Phoenix Glass Company of Pittsburgh and the Lippincott Glass Company of Alexandria, Ind., in June. This will end the strike of the bulb-making branch of the workers, in which about 400 men were involved.

The wage advance thus secured by the workers will be about 7 per cent. The wages of gatherers are advanced from $2 90 to $2 80 a day and of blowers from $4 30 to $4 50 a day. A committee of the flint workers will meet with the chimney manufacturers today in an effort to arrange a new scale.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

BOSTON, Aug. 5.—Secretary Cortelyou has telegraphed Senator Lodge and Senator Hoar that the president will reach Boston on Saturday, August 23, late in the afternoon, and will go at once to Nshant, where he will pass Sunday with Senator Lodge. The next morning the president will go to Newport, making 10-minute stops at Taunton and Fall River. He will return from Newport the same day, reaching Boston about 8 o'clock, where he will be received by the governor, the mayor and the Boston congressmen.

Tuesday morning he will go to New Hampshire, making 15-minute stops at Lowell, South Lawrence and Haverhill.

After a week in Maine and New Hampshire, he will return to Massachusetts on September 1, reaching Northfield late that afternoon. He will pass the night at Northfield, and will leave at 8:30 a. m., September 2, arriving at Millers Falls at 8:50; leave at 9 a. m., arrive at Fitchburg 10:40, leave 11:40. He will arrive at Worcester, where he goes to see Senator Hoar, at 12:40 p. m., and will leave at 5 p. m. He will arrive at Westfield at 6:30 p. m., and leave Westfield at 6:50 p. m., either for Dalton, where it is hoped he may go to pass the night with Gov. Crane, or for New Haven.

Mr. Cortelyou says it is the president's desire that there shall be no public receptions anywhere. The president will speak briefly at the points indicated, but will hold no receptions of any kind.

Gov. Crane, Secretary Moody and Senator Lodge conferred with such members of the congressional delegation as could be reached today, and it was agreed that the congressman in each district should take charge of the president's visit in that district. The arrangements in Boston for the 25th will be in charge of the governor, the mayor and the congressmen representing the Boston district.

WINDOW GLASS CROWD IS NEGOTIATING

Jobbers Dealing to Place a Big Order. Early Factory Start May Be Blocked.

President William T. Gray and others of the National Window Glass Jobbers' association, opened a conference in Pittsburgh yesterday preliminary to the placing of a joint order for probably 500,000 boxes of glass with the American and Independent Window Glass companies. Some of the executive committee of the jobbers, Secretary Leopold Mambourg of the Federation Window Glass Company, and President James A. Chambers and other officials of the American Window Glass Company, held a conference at the Duquesne club. The jobbers met at the offices of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company.

Leading jobbers and manufacturers declared that the matter of a big new contract would hardly be determined within a week. Representatives of the Federation Window Glass Company are here partly to arrange for the complete formation of their company. Secretary Mambourg said yesterday evening at the Hotel Henry that the company has already arranged to control 700 pots and will increase this to 900.

Failure of the Independent Glass Company and the Denny organization of the workers to arrange a scale at the recent meeting in Columbus, O., indicates that the factories of this company will not be started on September 1, as expected.

Meantime the Independent Company will have to settle a fight within its own organization. At the Columbus meeting the workers were offered a renewal of the Buffalo wage scale, which would mean a reduction of from 10 to 15 per cent on the wages paid to all workers at the end of the last factory fire.

GUIDO NAMED AS DELEGATE TO FILIPINOS

Evidently a Suitable American for Post Could Not Be Found.

IS A RIVAL OF FALCONIO

The Latter Now Likely to Get the Apostolic Mission to Washington. Career of the Vatican's Representative to Manila.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Rome, Aug. 5.—Italia announces that Mgr. Guidi, at present in the office of Cardinal Rampolla, the papal secretary of state, has been appointed apostolic delegate at Manila.

It was announced August 2 that the delay in appointing an apostolic delegate at Manila was due to a desire of the vatican to please the Washington authorities by sending to the Philippines an American prelate; but should this plan fall through the most probable candidate was said to be Mgr. Guidi.

Mgr. Guidi has long been looked on as one of the coming men among the trusted officials attached to the bureau of the cardinal secretary of state at the vatican. He was regarded as the most promising rival to Mgr. Falconio for the appointment as delegate at Washington, having in the various important trusts committed to his care displayed signal ability and diplomatic skill. As long ago as October 20 of last year Mgr. Sbarretti, archbishop of Ephesus, and former auditor of the Washington delegation and bishop of Havana, received the formal appointment of delegate apostolic to the Philippines. He started for Manila by way of the United States and, calling at Washington, was halted there for some cause that has never been explained. He is still in America. Rumor had it that Mgr. Sbarretti's appointment was not pleasing to Archbishop Ireland, who was then negotiating the program that led up to the appointment of the Taft commission to the vatican.

Mgr. Guidi's selection also would seem to clear the way for Mgr. Falconio's advent at Washington.

CONFISCATED BOXES.

Police Gathered Up 165 Maternity Hospital Boxes Scattered About the City.

Collection boxes of "The Maternity Hospital" were confiscated by the police yesterday in the Penn avenue, Lawrenceville and East End districts. All the boxes that the police could find bearing this label, were taken from the stores and other places where they had been plentifully scattered. These boxes were placed in Pittsburgh about two years ago.

A man named Van Buren, living in Philadelphia, was said to be in charge of them and the collections were being made, it is said, on the strength of more or less vague promises to locate such a hospital here.

The police turned in 31 boxes at No. 3 station, 53 at Lawrenceville, No. 5, and 81 at the East End station, No. 6. The sergeants at other stations said they knew of such an order, but no boxes had been brought in. A large amount of small denominations of coin is in the boxes, but the total value is not supposed to be great.

TO WIDEN EAST STREET.

Number of Street Ordinances Favorably Recommended to Councils.

The committee on surveys of Allegheny councils last night disposed of considerable routine business. The principal measure was the ordinance for the widening of East street from Madison avenue to Royal street to a width of 50 feet. The improvement will not cost the city more than $10,000 and it was shown that it will be a great benefit to the city. The ordinance was recommended favorably.

The ordinances vacating certain streets and alleys on Herrs Island asked, for by the Pittsburgh Provision Company, were all recommended affirmatively, as was an ordinance for the vacation of a part of Harrison avenue, in the Second ward.

The ordinance for the change of grade on Stayton street was recommended affirmatively, but that for the change of grade on Superior avenue, from Stayton street to a point 376.77 street west, was laid over until the abutting property holders sign articles releasing the city from all damages.

Teachers Are Having a Gay Time.

John F. Fisher of No. 845 Herron avenue has received a letter from William Beck, the brother of Mrs. Mary B. Redman, the last-named being one of the teachers' party which is touring Europe under the auspices of The Gazette. Mrs. Redman got more than 700,000 votes in the contest, leading all competitors, and Mr. Fisher and Mr. Beck helped her the most in getting them. Mr. Beck writes that he met the party of teachers in Antwerp, Belgium, and traveled with them as far as Brussels, that they were all in fine spirits and that he greatly enjoyed meeting the party.

AMBASSADOR WHITE RESIGNS HIS POST

RESULT LIKELY TO BE NUMEROUS DIPLOMATIC CHANGES.

Will Gratify Ambitions for Promotion. The Retiring Envoy Wishes to Devote His Time to Literature After His 70th Birthday.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, Aug. 5.—Ambassador White mailed his resignation to the United States several days ago. It is to take effect early in November. The resignation may now be in the hands of President Roosevelt. Mr. White is at Homburg, where he is taking the waters and where he probably will remain till the end of the month.

There is much gossip at Berlin concerning Mr. White's probable successor. One circumstantial story is that the president intends to transfer Ambassador Tower from St. Petersburg to Berlin, Minister Storer from Spain to be ambassador to Russia, and to appoint Henry White, now secretary of embassy at London, as minister to Spain. Mr. Tower, who has been dissatisfied with St. Petersburg, expressed months ago a wish to be transferred to some other equally desirable post, preferably Berlin.

Andrew D. White was appointed ambassador to Germany April 1, 1897. In March it was announced that he contemplated resigning because of ill health.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 5.—The announcement of Ambassador White's resignation was not unexpected, as a report was current some time ago that he would retire from public life upon reaching his 70th birthday. Several gentlemen in the diplomatic service have been mentioned in connection with the Berlin embassy, the most prominent being Dr. David Jayne Hill, now first assistant secretary of state, and Bellamy Storer, at present minister to Spain.

ITHACA, N. Y., Aug. 5.—The resignation of Ambassador White has been expected by his friends in this city for many months, particularly since the death of his son, Frederick D. White of Syracuse, in July, 1901. Dr. White will be 70 years old in November, and the reason assigned here for his withdrawal from his post is that he is ready now to devote himself to writing. He has completed a work on his experiences and reminiscences as a diplomat at Berlin and St. Petersburg and is constantly engaged in literary work.

JUDGE GOFF HEARS HABEAS CORPUS CASE

Will Render Decision Today in Matter of Miners Held for Contempt by Judge Jackson.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CLARKSBURG, W. VA., Aug. 5.—A special session of the United States circuit court was held today, with Judge Nathan Goff on the bench, to hear habeas corpus proceedings in the case of six miners sent to jail for contempt by Judge Jackson.

The prisoners are: Thomas Haggerty of Reynoldsville, Pa.; William Morgan of Massillon, O.; George Barron of Wilkesbarre, Pa.; William Blakely of Linton, Ind.; Peter Wilson of Westsville, Pa., and Andrew Raskawac of Plymouth, Pa.

Before proceeding with the hearing the judge stated that he was not owner or stockholder in any coal works, but that he owned coalland, and if the petitioners or counsel for the other side objected to his hearing the case he would have another judge take his case. No objection was made to the judge.

Attorneys for the petitioners argued that the Clarksburg Fuel Company was a party to the proceedings, as it was the real owner of the works and named in the prayer to court for injunctions to be issued in behalf of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York. Attorneys for the government argued that the Clarksburg company was not a necessary party to the suit, that the proceeding of Judge Jackson was regular and that Judge Jackson had jurisdiction to grant the injunction.

At the conclusion of the argument the judge adjourned court until tomorrow at 11 o'clock, when he will hand down his opinion.

Of the total, 412 were committed to jail and 239 sent to the workhouse, and the rest paid fines amounting to $3,069 65.

STRIKE IMMINENT ON THE ELEVATED

DEMANDS OF MOTORMEN AND ENGINEERS REFUSED.

Chief Arthur is Telegraphed for By Union Men—Claim More Work is Done Since Electricity Has Been Installed as Motive Power.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Vice President Skitt of the Manhattan Elevated railway today gave to a committee, representing the 500 engineers and motormen of the road, a refusal of their request made two weeks ago for a nine-hour day and other concessions.

When the company's reply became known among the men there was immediate talk of a strike. The committee after leaving Mr. Skitt's office went at once to a telegraph office and sent the following message to P. M. Arthur, grand master of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers:

"Come at once. Everything refused."

Chief Jenks, of division No. 105 of the brotherhood, says of the grievances:

"Since the introduction of motor cars into the service we have been compelled to make six round trips daily between One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street and South Ferry, consuming 10 hours and traveling on the average 108 miles a day. On the engines we never made more than five trips, and four and a half was the usual number. The company claims that the motor cars being faster we should be able to make the additional trip. They also say that the strain on us in running the electric trains is less. The first statement may be true, but the second is not. We are under just as great a strain as we were on the engines. We are willing to make five trips a day in nine hours and no more.

"We also want a relay system that will give each man a chance to get a bite to eat and a few minutes to himself at the end of each run."

Grand Master Arthur is expected to arrive tomorrow or Thursday.

WILL LET PEOPLE DECIDE ON ACTION

Meeting of Twenty-first Ward Citizens Called for Friday Night to Discuss New Bridge.

The citizens of the Twenty-first ward are in earnest about getting the Lincoln avenue bridge completed. For 18 months the street cars have not been going across the bridge, and since last April the residents of the district on the other side of the bridge have been compelled to climb up and down long flights of stairs into and out of the Silver lake ravine. Last night the committee appointed by the citizens of the ward met in the Leamington avenue schoolhouse. J. M. Skelly presided. The other members of the committee present were John Schott, James Shepherd, Hayes Smith, William Bewkliss, William Doble, Samuel Swartzwelder, Ralph Gould and Chris Hartman. The committee was appointed for the purpose of pushing the building of the bridge.

Dr. G. W. McNeil, common councilman from the ward, told the committee that he had learned from Dr. J. Guy McCandless, the director of the department of public works, that work on the new bridge has been entirely stopped for the present. Mr. McNeil said he understood that the Pennsylvania railroad desires to build a track to connect its main line with the Allegheny Valley railroad.

The new bridge is so planned that the proposed track can neither go under or over the bridge, and the department of public works suspended work until plans can be prepared to enable the railroad to pass under the bridge. This information is the same published in The Gazette last week, and the committee considered that it means the bridge cannot be built for 18 months unless conditions are altered. Therefore it was decided to let the people of the ward decide what to do, and for that purpose a meeting was calle for next Friday evening at 8 o'clock in Harvey's stair factory, at Lincoln avenue and Rowan street.

Both performances were officially timed and are recognized as world's records.

HEADLESS BODY FOUND LEANING AGAINST A TREE

Awful Discovery Made by Alfred Madden Near Shousetown.

HEAD HAD ROLLED AWAY

An Unknown Committed Suicide by Hanging After Making Deliberate Preparations—Deed Must Have Been Done Two Months Ago.

The body of a man who committed suicide probably two months ago, was discovered yesterday afternoon near Stoops Ferry, on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad. The despondent man ended his life by hanging, and the cord had gradually pulled his head from his body; it was found on the side of a hill some 40 feet away from the body. There was nothing found by which to identify the suicide. The remains were removed to the morgue.

Alfred Madden of Warren street, East End, was walking between Stoops Ferry and Shoustown yesterday afternoon, hunting roots and medicine herbs. He had just emerged from a thicket on top of a hill above the railroad tracks, when he was horrified at the sight of a headless man leaning against a small tree.

Upon investigation he saw that the man had hanged himself by a cord that was fastened to the tree about three feet above his shoulders. The noose was made of a fishing cord that had been doubled about 20 times and seemed apparently new.

Madden immediately notified William Graff, station agent at Stoops Ferry, who sent word to Coroner Jesse M. McGeary. The coroner detailed Deputy George Kaffar to investigate the case.

The man had deliberately planned to take his life. He had removed his hat and coat, which were found within six feet of his body. He evidently pulled himself up on the tree and then, after fastening the noose about his neck, let himself drop.

His body was so stiffened that he remained in a standing position after the cord had pulled through his neck. He resembled a mill man in his appearance. His clothing was apparently new and had been bought in this city. He wore heavy mill shoes.

There was a time book found in his coat, but it was so moldy that the writing could not be traced.

HUSBAND FOUND MISSING SISTERS

Perry Anderson Attacked His Wife With Knife on Finding Her With Another Man.

Mrs. Perry Anderson and her sister, Mrs. Annia Eagan, of Fifty-fifth and Carnegie streets, who disappeared from their home on Monday evening, were found yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Anderson's husband at the home of a relative in Standard row, near Fifty-seventh street. The husband found his wife and his sister-in-law in a room with a man named Reigh. Drawing a knife, he went for his wife. She screamed and ran about the room. Reigh, it is alleged, made his escape, leaving the two women alone with the irate husband.

Mrs. Eagan was so badly frightened that she jumped on the sill of the second-story window and hung to the sill, preparing to drop to the street. The sight of the woman hanging from the window attracted many persons, who ran to her assistance. They heard the scuffling inside and rushed to the room, where Anderson was beating his wife. They separated the husband from his wife, and pulled Mrs. Eagan back into the room.

Anderson then became alarmed at the actions of his sister-in-law and immediately made up with his wife. They went home together. He blames Mrs. Eagan for the actions of his wife.

LARKIN FINDS A PLAN ON WHICH HE CALLS A HALT

Municipal Hospital Project Was to Be Skimped for Money.

PLAIN TALK BY MORROW

He Uncovers Director Leslie of Department of Public Safety and Tells of Notice Served on That Official and Recorder Brown.

Controller John B. Larkin has discovered what he regards as a neat scheme concocted by City Recorder J. O. Brown and Director A. H. Leslie of the department of public safety to build another palatial engine house at the expense of the proposed new Municipal hospital, and he has nipped the scheme in the bud.

The public safety department is planning to build a hospital that will not approach meeting the requirements of a city such as Pittsburgh, at a cost of $80,000 when there is $125,000 at the disposal of the department for the building of this hospital. The difference, according to the plan which Controller Larkin has discovered, was to be put into a fine engine house, the real need for which has not yet been demonstrated to Mr. Larkin.

Director Leslie Called to Account.

Controller Larkin has notified Recorder Brown and Director Leslie that he will not authorize payments on such a hospital as they are planning and that a revision of everything done thus far will be advisable.

Controller Larkin also says that he will not permit the erection of the hospital unless competitive plans are requested, and the best plans selected, and the hospital built from that plan. He says that Director Leslie must amend his public deliverances in which he censures councils for not providing him with funds, when councils gave him even more than he asked.

The controller's attention was called to the matter by an interview given out by Director Leslie in a Tuesday morning paper in which he said he was sorry that he would have to build an $80,000 hospital which will not meet requirements, and that he would like very much to build a much larger one if he had the money at his disposal.

The light in which the controller's office views this matter is shown by the following interview, which was given out yesterday by Assistant Controller E. S. Morrow, and which was fully endorsed by Controller Larkin himself, who heard the statements made:

Morrow Makes Matters Plain.

"Director Leslie is mistaken. It was not councils that fixed the amount which should be expended for a municipal hospital; that was done by the department of public safety. About April 21, ordinances were introduced in select council by John Benz for the employment of architects to prepare plans and specifications for a hospital for contagious and disinfectious diseases, and for the award of an contract for the construction of the hospital. These ordinances were referred to the public safety committee. Where it was seen that the ordinance for the award of the contract fixed the amount at $80,000, but this was increased to $80,000.

"In Director Leslie's interview he is made to regret the fact that councils limited him to $80,000. The truth is that when the bond ordinance was drawn, the amount placed in it for a municipal hospital was placed at $300,000. It was found, however, that more money was needed for police stations in the East End wards, and finally an agreement was reached between J. O. Brown, then director of public safety, and Controller J. E. Lewis, that the amount to be used for the hospital should be $125,0000. This amount remains to the credit of that appropriation today. The director with the same ease could have placed in his ordinance $125,000 for the hospital instead of $80,000.

Money Wanted for Other Purposes.

"But it was probably desired to build one or two more engine houses or police stations. In fact an ordinance has already been introduced for an engine house on the South Side to cost $30,000. This was done about the time Mr. Larkin took charge of the controller's office. Mr. Larkin gave verbal notice to Leslie that he would not permit any further diversion of that fund until the hospital is completed.

"They evidently believed that he meant what he said, and they set to work to build a hospital at the lowest possible expense. The reason for placing the sum at $80,000 in the first place, was because they desired to have $65,000 to expend otherwise. It was intended, as J. O. Brown explained, to build three cottage hospitals, one for smallpox, another for diphtheria and a third for scarlet fever.

"This idea met with the favor of Controller Lewis. Now, for some reason, they have abandoned that plan, and will erect one building for contagious and infectious diseases. This is not dealing fairly nor honestly with the people. As to the employment of an architect, who the director has selected I do not know, but I know that in this, as well as in other cases in the past, he has violated both the spirit and letter of the law.

Things Smack of a Job.

"In a building for this purpose, and requiring the expenditure of such a large sum, competitive work should have been invited. From the time of the introduction of the ordinance up to the present, it smacks of a job.

"We shall have something further to say here when the matter comes officially before the controller. But I want the public to understand that it is not the fault of councils that so meager a sum is to be used for hospital purposes."

GIRLS THREATEN TO CLOSE PLANTS

FINISHERS AT EAST LIVERPOOL POTTERIES AIR A GRIEVANCE.

Jiggermen Quit Furnishing Tools and Young Women Quit Work—Three Concerns Crippled and Others Likely to Be Affected.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Aug. 5.—A shut-down of all the potteries whose employes are affiliated with the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters is threatened, and all on account of the action of the members of Finishers' local, No. 33, which is composed almost entirely of young women. The work of these girls is to finish the jiggered ware after it is made by jiggermen.

A special meeting of this local order was held Monday evening in Turner hall to consider the actions of the jiggermen who employ them in refusing to furnish them with tools, composed of files, small pieces of steel, sponges and buckets. The jiggermen have asked the girls to furnish these articles themselves, but this they flatly refused to do. The jiggermen until recently furnished these articles.

All the finishers employed in the three plants of the Laughlin China Company are out, also at the Taylor, Smith & Taylor and the Edwin M. Knowles potteries. In other plants only a few of the finishers are at work, and the situation is beginning to look serious.

A communication on the actions of the finishers' meeting Monday evening was read at the meeting of the jiggermen tonight, and their action will not be made public until the answer to the finishers' letter has been made known to that local.

Unless the finishers return to work all the clay departments of the potteries will be compelled to shut down on account of no ware.

COLLISION ON LAKE IN A CLEAR NIGHT

One Steamer Goes to Bottom and Three Members of Her Crew Are Drowned.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CLEVELAND, Aug. 5.—As a result of a collision on Lake Erie between the steamer City of Venice, ore-laden, and the steamer Seguin, a steel lumber vessel, off Rondeau, Canada, last midnight, the former vessel was sunk and three lives lost, while several other persons were more or less seriously injured.

The drowned men are: Peter Simondson, fireman, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Thomas Flanigan, deckhand, Buffalo, and George Weir, watchman, residence unknown.

The cause of the collision is not known. There was no fog whatever and the night was fairly clear. The lights of the City of Venice were burning brightly. To this the crew and passengers all testify, saying they could see the lights on the Venice as she was sinking. The second mate of the Seguin, W. A. Lavigne, who was on watch, refuses absolutely to give any information in regard to the way the accident happened. "The less said about it the better," was the only statement he would make.

All those who were sleeping rushed on deck and there was a frightful panic for a time. The Venice was split almost in two. Captain Broderick ran on deck in his sleeping robes and immediately called to the men to man the lifeboat. The vessel went down in less than 15 minutes after the collision.

First Car on New Castle & Sharon Railway Has an Accident Going and Coming.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Aug. 5.—(Special.)—The first passenger car to traverse the New Castle & Sharon electric railway arrived today from Sharon carrying Supt. Hamilton and other officials of the railway.

A work car preceding the special frightened the horse of Marcus Feuchtwanger, treasurer of the Standard Brewing Company. The animal ran away, throwing Feuchtwanger out and injuring him. On the return journey the special ran into a Standard brewery delivery wagon and the front end of the car was torn out.

It is announced that the new interurban railway will be formally opened within a few days and the cars will penetrate into the heart of this city, through an agreement with the New Castle Traction Company.

SUGAR QUARREL DOES NOT WORRY UNITED STATES

Russia Is Battling Against Countries Interested in Brussels Conference.

ALL QUESTION OF BOUNTY

None Is Paid in America and Czar's Government Claims None Is Paid There—Sent Note to Washington as Matter of Courtesy.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
903 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 5.

The impression existing in some quarters that the recent note of the Russian government on the sugar bounty question is a threat toward the United States government is erroneous. In fact, the note was not sent officially to this government, but only communicated informally as a matter of information by M. Routkowsky, financial agent of the Russian government in Washington, to show that Russia intends to deal with other parties as she did with the United States. The note was aimed at the powers represented in the Brussels conference, and as the United States has never participated in that conference it stands to reason that the note was not aimed at the United States, although, secondarily, it touches upon the controversy between the United States and Russia which commenced several years ago, when this government imposed a countervailing duty upon Russian sugar. This controversy is now before the United States supreme court for a final decision.

The Brussels conference is composed of the leading powers of Europe and other continents, including Great Britain, the majority of whom were paying bounties on goods exported. Russia was not and is not a participant in the conference, although it claims not to pay bounties, and the United States is not a participant because we do not pay bounties.

Russia Made Suspicious.

For years it has been suspected that Russia was paying bounties on all Russian sugar which was exported, but the government always strenuously denied this allegation. Finally the conference decided to impose higher duties upon Russian sugar, and this brought forth the note now being discussed in the newspapers and diplomatic circles.

In the note Russia gave notice through the Belgian government to all governments represented in the Brussels conference notifying them that Russia does not pay, either directly or indirectly, any bounties on the export of sugar, and that even if she did the imposition on Russian sugar by the countries represented in the Brussels conference higher import duties than those imposed by their respective tariffs on sugars coming from other countries would be considered by Russia as a violation of the principle of the most favored nation clause appearing in the treaties between Russia and those countries. While the note does not say so specifically it is evident that Russia thus gives notice that she will retaliate.

Now, as to the effect of the note upon the United States. Several years ago this government became entirely satisfied that the Russian government was paying a bounty upon Russian sugar exported to the United States. Immediately a countervailing duty was placed by the treasury department upon Russian sugar and the Russian government at once retaliated by placing higher duties upon certain articles imported into that country from the United States.

Government Wins Three Times.

There the controversy between the two governments rests pending a final decision of the sugar test case by the highest court in this country. That the treasury department had ample proof that Russia was paying a bounty on sugar imported into this country is shown by the fact that the department has been sustained by three authorities. The board of appraisers first sustained the government and the case was then carried to the circuit court of the United States for Southern New York, where the decision of the board of appraisers was upheld. The United States circuit court of appeals upheld both decisions, and now the importer has carried the case to the United States supreme court. As the countervailing duty is about half a cent a pound, and as the importation of Russian sugar amounts to several million tons annually, it will be seen that a fortune is involved in the pending decision. CHARLES W. METZGAR.

CAPITOL PLANS APPROVED.

Bids Will Be Opened at Executive Department at Harrisburg Sept. 7. Meeting of Commission.

HARRISBURG, PA., Aug. 5.—(Special.)—Bids for the erection of the $4,000,000 capitol will be opened publicly at noon on September 7 at the executive department. All bids must be sealed and delivered in envelops of uniform size to be furnished by the state capitol commission.

This plan of procedure was agreed upon at a meeting of the commission today, which lasted from noon until late tonight. The plans and specifications were submitted by Architect Joseph M. Huston of Philadelphia and adopted, with only slight changes. Blue prints may be seen and specifications had after next Saturday at the office of Architect Huston in Philadelphia.

The commission is anxious to begin work on the building with the least possible delay and it is probable that the contractor will start not later than October 1.

SWITCH NOTICES SENT.

Controller John B. Larkin Gives Privilege Holders Until September 15 to Pay for the Same.

Notices sent yesterday by Controller Larkin to owners of switches warned them that unless they paid for the privilege they enjoy by September 15 suits will be entered. The revenue received from this source amounts to about one-tenth what the controller thinks it should.

In 17 years the highest amount received in one year was $2,921 25. It has been as low as $75. The controller has found there are 198 switches in use, only 30 of which were secured by special ordinance. Most of the others were laid under a general ordinance passed in 1868. It provided for a license at the rate of from $25 to $500 a year, according to the length of feet occupied. It also provided a penalty of $75 fine for failure to pay the license and $25 additional for removal of the switch for failure to pay.

A new ordinance, passed only a month ago, provides for a fee of $75 annually, but it does not repeal the penalty clause of the old ordinance, and it is on this presumption the notices of yesterday were based. The controller calculates that switches ought to furnish a revenue of at lease $15,000 a year.

Thousands yesterday took advantage of these economic times—and thousands will today.

PITTSBURGHER TALKS OF THE MEXICO OF TODAY

W. J. Chatterton Has Just Returned from a Two Years' Stay.

CIRCLE OF DIAZ'S FRIENDS

An Interesting Political Organization Formed—Much Pittsburgh Capital Seeks Investment in the Adjacent Republic.

W. J. Chatterton, who is at the Hotel Henry, has just arrived home from a two years' prospecting trip through Mexico. Mr. Chatterton has discovered and submitted to the American rubber trust for examination a hitherto unknown substance in the nature of a mineral deposit of rubber, which he has found can be used as a filler for rubber goods.

He discovered this deposit in the southwest portion of the state of Chihuahua. He says there are millions of tons of the shale in sight, giving off a 17 per cent distillate of rubber, and the discoverer expects it to develop into one of the richest mines in Mexico. The stuff resembles soapstone and when a match is applied to it, burns slowly, giving off a distinct odor of burnt rubber.

Society to Support Diaz.

Mr. Chatterton made an extensive study of the Mexican laws with reference to titles, treatment of foreigners, etc. "It is not commonly known," said Mr. Chatterton, "outside of the limits of the republic that there exists a political society known as the 'Circle of Friends of General Porfirio Diaz.' While the public is not admitted to the sessions of this society, it is in no other sense a secret organization. Founded about 20 years ago in the City of Mexico by a few personal friends of Diaz, it has grown to include among its members nearly all the principal members of the governing class of Mexicans. Lawyers, politicians, business men, officers of the army and prominent men in every walk of life are members of it. Many of the former opponents of the government are now counted among its strongest members.

"In the United States it would probably be called the political machine. In Mexico it is even more than this. Its members are pledged to the support of the government, to the preservation of peace and the carrying out of the policies of President Diaz. As a political organization it is far more powerful than all other political organizations combined. In the event of the sudden death of President Diaz, his successor would undoubtedly be chosen from its ranks and pledged to support the reforms and policies of Diaz.

Pittsburgh Money in Mexico.

"It is a remarkable fact that more Pittsburgh capital than that of any other American city is invested in Mexican mines. When anybody discovers a claim in Mexico that amounts to anything he comes direct to Pittsburgh for the money to develop it. In the matter of securing a title to Mexican properties the precautions taken by a good business man in this country would ordinarily suffice.

"Nine-tenths of the difficulties that foreigners have had with their Mexican titles can be traced directly to a lack of thoroughness in the examination of the title before the property is acquired. The matter is commonly entrusted to an agent, himself a foreigner, often a promoter of the enterprise, whose familiarity with Mexican laws and customs is assumed from the fact of his having paid one or two visits to the republic.

"I recall an instance where an American corporation had its title translated into English and that translated title passed upon by an eastern legal firm. What it now thinks of that firm would not look well in print.

Restrictions on Foreigners.

"With one exception Mexico places no restriction on the foreigner, other than those borne by her own citizens. A foreigner may not purchase real property within 60 miles of the land border of the republic, nor within 30 miles of the sea, without first having obtained permission of the general government through its department of state. This border strip is known as the prohibition zone, and permits to hold real estate within the border are issued only by the governor of the state in which the property is located. Such permits are seldom refused to reputable applicants.

"A mining title is merely a permit issued by the government, contingent upon the payment of fixed annual tax of $10, Mexican silver, for a mining claim of 10,000 square metres superficial area. Failure to pay this tax forfeits the claim. Taxes are due every four months and a failure to pay for three months after due works a forfeiture. Cautious people and those having large interests at stake usually pay annually, in advance, to avoid risk of forfeiture through oversight.

"The government especially has set the example of encouraging foreign enterprise, and four-fifths of the valuable concessions granted within 15 years have been to foreign companies. The natives themselves are not yet fully awake to the spirit of modern commercialism.

A New Mexico Has Arisen.

"The Mexico of today is far removed from the Mexico of 30 years ago. To a vast majority of the younger men of the republic the era of revolution and disorder, of armed bands levying tribute without regard to law, is little more than half remembered history. The old revolutionary leaders, almost without exception, are dead; the few remaining have become reconciled to the new order of things, or are beyond the age where men are factors in political life. For more than a generation Mexico has enjoyed unbroken peace and prosperity. Millions of dollars of foreign capital have sought the country for investment. Values of property in the hands of native land owners have increased many fold. New interests have been awakened; new ties established—Mexico has been brought in touch with the rest of the world.

"The advent of the railroads wrought a change almost miraculous. Hardly a town of 3,000 inhabitants but is now accessible by rail. Good wagon roads, the telephone and the telegraph have brought the others in touch, and today we find Mexico a compact and homogenous unit. Traveling has become a fad, and, where 20 years ago a man who had traveled from the northern part of the republic to the chief city and returned alive was a nine days' wonder, today the return of a citizen from Europe, Asia or Africa hardly calls for passing notice."

PLAN TO GIVE PURE WATER TO PITTSBURGH

Influential Residents Arrange to Launch a $10,000,000 Company.

WILL USE ELECTRICITY

Suburban Cry for Pure and Sufficient Water Crystallizes on Hill Tops With Plans for a Demonstration to Fight Existing Companies.

Some leading capitalists of Pittsburgh, along with C. E. Holland of New York and Capt. J. M. Murphy of Harrisburg, arranged yesterday at a meeting in the Duquesne club for the formation of a new company with a capital of $10,000,000, which plans to give to Pittsburgh and vicinity a pure water supply.

Among those interested are T. Hart Given, president of the Farmers Deposit National bank; former Judge James H. Reed, president of the Philadelphia Company, and Parker L. Walter of Sewickley.

The promoters of the company have demonstrated to the satisfaction of Controller J. B. Larkin that they can take the water of any reeking stream and convert it into pure and healthful drinking water. The interests of the new company will present the matter to councils at the next meeting. They will offer to install a plant in connection with the Brilliant pumping station and operate it for a year without cost to the city if it proves unsatisfactory.

In case the system shows the results expected the city will, of course, be bound to pay the cost of the installation of the plant and a certain sum for the water purified.

Preliminary Steps Taken.

At the meeting held yesterday at the Duquesne club some of the preliminary steps for the formation of a company were taken. It was definitely determined that the company will be capitalized at $10,000,000. The stock is to be in one class, each share to participate in the earnings in equal ratio. The question of a bond issue was considered, but action was deferred. Capt. Murphy and C. E. Holland now own the Electrical Purifying Company, which is organized under the laws of New Jersey with a capital of $500,000. All rights in the patents and assets of this company will be transferred to the Pittsburgh company.

The new company will incorporate under the laws of West Virginia as either the Electrical Purifying Company or the Electrical Water Company. Arrangements for its incorporation will be completed within a day or two. The charter will be secured through Attorneys Reed, Smith, Shaw & Beale, successors to Knox & Reed. Directors of the new company will be named in a day or two.

What Capt. Murphy Says.

Capt. Murphy said last night: "We have decided to go ahead and form a $10,000,000 company. Among those interested are some of the most substantial Pittsburgh capitalists. We have demonstrated the success of our system in converting the waters of Chartiers creek into a pure drinking water. Controller J. B. Larkin of Pittsburgh was surprised at what we were able to show him. The Chartiers creek is a reeking water and the controller at seeing its purification asked how soon we could put a plant into his home that would give him water as good.

"The system eliminates the acid, which is the element that makes the locomotive and factory boilers short-lived. We are certain that we have the first complete system that will purify such waters as those of the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers. Our demonstration below the sewge outlet of McKees Rocks demonstrates this."

The pure water campaign is extending to the boroughs south of the Monongahela river, supplied by the Monongahela and the Chartiers Valley Water Companies. The citizens of McKees Rocks will at their next municipal election vote on a plan to erect a waterworks to cost $75,000. The drilling of artesian wells is considered.

Indignation on the Hill Tops.

The Hill Top board of trade held a special meeting last night at Elo's hall, Arlington and Washington avenues, to hear the report of the committee appointed to suggest ways and means to secure a better water supply. The committee offered a resolution citing acts of great injustice on the part of the water companies and pledging the board to commence a vigorous warfare against the companies until the rights of the people are fully secured. This was adopted. In order to provide funds for the fight the resolution provided for a monster indignation meeting to be held at McKinley park on Saturday afternoon, August 23.

There will be an ox roast, athletic sports and musical features. Among the citizens talking for the proposition were: H. L. Dixon of Knoxville, Frank J. Gosser, J. H. Burt, F. M. McKelvey, J. C. Smink and J. M. Hummell. Mr. Dixon told of the fight between the Monongahela Water Company and the old St. Clair Water Company at the time the latter company was looking for right-of-way through Knoxville. He referred to a contract then drawn up which provided for city rates, which failed for certain reasons. He said that Mr. Oliver secured the same contract and when the water company raised its rates one man who knew of the contract refused to pay more than city rates and agreed with the company to institute a friendly suit to see if it had the right to raise the rates.

How a Water Company Backed Down.

He declared the man received free water for two years because the company did not dare air the contract in court. He thought that Mr. Oliver was the place to start the fight, using the contract in question as a base.

Mr. Burtt offered a resolution which was adopted and which placed the board on record as not favoring the purchase of the Monongahela Water Company by the city and favoring the extension of the city lines to the South Side.

Another resolution which was adopted was presented by F. M. McKelvey that councils should take steps requiring the Monongahela Water Company to either extend its lines in the Thirty-eighth ward or have the Chartiers company live up to the contract made with Beltzhoover borough and reduce its rates to the city schedule.

Committees were appointed to represent the board at meetings to be held in Sheraden and Mt. Oliver. The Sheraden meeting is to be held tonight and F. M. McKelvey, A. Jameson and J. H. Burtt were named as the representatives. For the Mt. Oliver meeting, which is to be held Saturday night, H. L. Dixon, W. V. Aul and Charles Moye were named as a committee.

FALL DOWN FLIGHT OF STAIRS CAUSED DEATH

Aged Mary McDonald Will No Longer Ask Police to Send Her to the Workhouse.

Mary McDonald, 50 years old, was fatally injured by falling down a flight of steps in Second avenue, near Try street, at 7:45 o'clock last night. She died of her injuries at the Homeopathic hospital about one hour afterward.

The accident took place at the house of James Daley, No. 615 Second avenue, where she made her home. She was there for supper and was just about to leave the place to visit friends. The steps she was descending were old and she tripped and fell headlong into the street below.

The family heard the crash and found the woman in a heap, bleeding at the mouth, nose and ears. She was taken to the Homeopathic hospital, where it was found her skull was fractured.

The woman was well known to the police, having been in custody many times. She worked as a scrub woman and often would request the police to send her to the workhouse, as she was without money and hungry.

PYTHIANS' DAY MARRED BY RAIN

PLEASURES OF THOUSANDS INTERFERED WITH.

What Would Have Been a Record-Breaking Affair Was Dampened—The Dancing Floor Being Out of the Wet Was Largely Patronized.

Rain interfered with the picnic of the Knights of Pythias of Western Pennsylvania at Kennywood park yesterday, otherwise it would have been the largest affair of the season. The crowd began to gather early in the day. The early ones were the wives and children, and all of them had baskets. They went to good places under the trees and settled down. That is, the mothers settled down, but the children saw everything there was to see in the park and kept moving to do this.

When the Kilties' band took its place and sounded its first notes it was seen that there was a big crowd present. The park is so big that it takes 10,000 to begin to make a showing. By the time Sergt. Ferguson was giving his bagpipe solo every seat was filled.

It was just 3:30 o'clock when the first spatter of rain fell. The people looked as if astonished and some elevated their umbrellas. Then the spatter came harder and by the time the band had got to "Where, tell me where, has my Highland laddie gone?" the women were seeking cover. Then there was a general scattering by the crowd and before the medley of Scotch songs was concluded the band was playing to empty benches.

The pleasures of the day were marred. Many went direct to the gate and took the first car for home. Others sought temporary shelter only to reach the exit in the course of half an hour. The early comers, with their tired children, were early to go home. Because of the rain it was necessary to postpone many of the sports. Those that were carried out furnished plenty of amusement.

The rain was much harder at Kennywood than in Pittsburgh and because of that people who had promised to be there arrived almost as fast as others hurried home. It rained off and on for nearly three hours and while it prevented the band from having an audience it did not prevent there being a big crowd on the dancing floor.

At 7:30 o'clock there was a parade of the companies of the Uniformed Rank and because of the excellent marching and different drills it attracted considerable attention. The night crowd then arrived. The cars from Pittsburgh were packed and nearly everybody displayed the Pythian colors.

Today the Od. Fellows' picnic will take place at Kennywood. It is always the big picnic of the year and if the weather is good it will be larger this year than ever before. Great preparations have been made to entertain the crowd. Dupont's minstrels will be at Kennywood all day as an extra attraction.

Thieves Worked at Avalon.

Thieves were at work among the firemen and visitors at the lawn fete and carnival given last night by the Avalon fire department, which assembled the largest crowd the borough has ever seen. Harry Taylor lost a purse containing $65. William Misbaugh had his hip pocket cut out, but managed to get his pocketbook containing $100 out of reach before it could be taken from him. William Janes of Bellevue caught a man who had also cut out his pocket, but he was unable to hold him and his money too, and the man escaped.

FRANKLIN, PA., Aug. 5.—(Special.)—The body of the man found in Big Sandy creek near Polk, last week, was identified this morning as that of Charles Day, aged 18, an inmate of the State Institution for Feeble Minded at Polk, who disappeared on July 9.

SWINDLER WHO WORKED HERE IS IN THE TOILS

Paul Brigham Is Jailed in Boston Charged With Forgery.

PITTSBURGH FIRM LOSERS

Apparently Respectable Investor With Credentials Had Been Living on Sound Companies for Some Time—Prisoner Over 70 Years Old.

Paul Brigham, who last December induced a firm in the Empire building to give him $2,600, was arrested last night in Boston and will be brought to Pittsburgh as soon as the necessary papers can be made out. Brigham was arrested by William B. Watts, inspector of the Boston police, in response to a circular sent out by Detective Roger O'Mara who has charge of the case.

Brigham was known in Pittsburgh as Adam Keith. He has been known in other places as Charles W. Bartlett. He is 70 years of age. The picture of him printed herewith was taken while he was in Pittsburgh last December.

Brigham presented a good appearance. He was neatly dressed in a dark blue business suit, a dark, rough grey overcoat and a high, square top stiff hat. He had a gold watch and chain, with a Masonic charm. He carried in his gloved hand a black crook-hand, self-opening umbrella. When Brigham reached Pittsburgh he inserted in a newspaper the following advertisement:

Wanted—$50,000 and upward, to invest as special partner in manufacturing or mercantile business; or would invest in stock of company or corporation bank. Reference given and required. State when and where an interview may be had, and nature of business. Address J., 863.

Brigham managed, in a day or two, to introduce himself to members of the Henry S. Mould Company, manufacturers of briquetting machinery, with offices in the Empire building, as Adam Keith of Boston. He was on his way to California for his health, but had stopped over in Pittsburgh because it was such a good business point, and he had about decided to make a few investments here. Incidentally he showed a letter purporting to have been written by Franklin Haven, president of the Merchants' National bank of Boston, in which it was stated that he had been a customer of the bank for years and was perfectly reliable in every way. He also showed a letter purporting to have been written by A. P. Weeks, cashier of the bank, in which it was stated that on November 20, Keith had a little balance in the bank of $119,000.

A proposition was made him that he take $10,000 stock in the company. This looked like a good investment to Mr. Keith and he also offered to make a loan of $15,000 in cash.

He looked over the books and papers, the mechanical plant, and met people who knew the members of the firm, but he wanted to see their attorneys. He fully investigated the legal standing of the firm and after a long talk with the attorney concluded that the firm was all right for him to do business with. The attorneys were instructed to draw up the papers.

The papers were gone over and discussed the next day. They were talked about and looked at from all sides. The next day Keith wanted $100. It was given him, as the papers were to be signed that afternoon. At the afternoon meeting Keith said he wanted $2,500, in addition to the $100 he had received. He then made the proposition that he would give a check for $15,000 on the Merchants' National bank of Boston to cover the loan to the company, and a check on the same bank for $12,600 to represent the $10,000 payment of the stock, the $2,600 to be paid him and the $100 paid.

There was no objection to this at all. Brigham, or Keith, then deposited with the treasurer three checks on the Merchants' National bank of Boston for safekeeping, one for $2,500, one for $1,300 and one for $500, all certified November 20, and the signature S. T. Otis, paying teller, being in the rubber stamp certification. Brigham explained that he had these checks to take to California for expenses and an investment if he saw one.

Brigham, alias Keith, did not show up the next day, and it was then discovered that the checks were forgeries. There was no trace of Mr. Brigham. The case was placed in the hands of Detective Roger O'Mara. He had thousands of circulars, giving a good picture and description of Brigham, sent all over the country. Last night he received telegrams from Inspector Watt in Boston, and from Detective Robert Pinkerton in New York, that Brigham had been arrested by the former. Detective O'Mara will go to Boston after Brigham as soon as he can get the requisition papers.

PAUL BRIGHAM,
Alias Adam Keith, alias Charles W. Bartlett, an aged bunco man who "did" a Pittsburgh firm for $2,600 last December, and who was arrested for that offense in Boston yesterday.

WEDDING GUEST ROBS THE GROOM

NEW CASTLE, PA., Aug. 5.—(Special.)—Michael Kim was arrested last night for the larceny of $200 from John Kormarek while at the latter's as a guest at his wedding. Kormarek was married July 7 and gave his friends a grand feast. After his guests departed the groom discovered he had been robbed of two $100 deposit certificates on the Citizens National bank. Yesterday he learned that Kim had given a $100 certificate to a local saloonkeeper. Kim had the other $100 certificate in his shoe when arrested.

OHIO ENCAMPMENT NOW IN FULL SWING

Governor Nash Inspects His Soldiers and Is Well Pleased With Everything He Sees.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEWARK, O., Aug. 5.—The second day's encampment of the Second brigade of the Ohio national guard at Camp William McKinley finds all the machinery in full motion. The tents, which had not been taken down since the encampment of the First brigade, are all occupied again and some additional tents have been put up. Complete military routine has been established.

The boys suffered considerably Monday night, their first night in camp, on account of the unusual chilliness of the atmosphere, due to the sudden change in the weather. Many of the soldier boys were not used to sleeping out in tents, and at the sick call this morning a number of them were found unfit for duty. None were seriously sick, however.

Gov. Nash made a tour of inspection of the various regiments on horseback, accompanied by Col. Brush and aids. The governor expressed himself as being well pleased with the manner in which the boys are situated in the camp.

The Fourth regiment will give a reception and a band concert on Wednesday evening to the Newark board of trade, the Newark lodge of Elks, and the Spanish-American war veterans. The engineers this morning finished stringing the telephone and telegraph wires over the camp, and now the headquarters have instant communication with all parts of the camp.

It is the intention of Gen. Speaks to send one regiment to the range each day, and those making the best scores will be awarded the medals and the honors.

CHAUTAUQUA.

Carroll D. Wright Strongly Defends the Labor Strike.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., Aug. 5.—(Special.)—The labor conference is proving the most interesting feature of the week, and it has been announced that Senator Hanna will give the closing address on "Capital and Labor." The second conference took the form of a question box, with Carroll D. Wright answering the questions.

"What is your opinion of strikes in general?" brought this answer from Mr. Wright:

"That is a big question, but I do not hesitate to answer it. I have said a number of times that fools do not strike. It is only when men are intelligent enough to want more than they are getting that they begin to ask concessions from their employers. I do not say they are exercising the highest intelligence when they strike, but it shows that they have an intelligence now which they did not have in former years. The next movement will be a step upward when men will have intelligence enough not to strike. The strike, which we all deplore, is a part of a transition in the morals of industry. We can already note a change in the methods of strikes. They are not so brutal, but one carried on more orderly and with less violence. They have become great contests for principle and are waged in a dignified and persistent way. There are ignorant employers as well as employes, and I sometimes wonder which needs the more instruction. I think it often happens that an employer who allows a strike among his workmen is not up to par in his industrial morals. The strike has done good, is doing good and will do good. After all, everything that is worth while in industry or government has been the result of some form of a strike. We struck in 1776, you may remember."

DARK MYSTERY IS THE POLICY OF UNION PARTY

Nomination of Pennypacker by Republicans Makes Its Action Uncertain.

SOME MEMBERS REGULAR

Rushed Back to Party Ties After Harrisburg Convention — Would Have Indorsed Pattison Had Elkin Been the Nominee.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 5.—An important feature in the coming campaign that has not yet been decided upon is the part that is to be played by the Union party, and it may not be known before the holding of the state convention that has been called to meet in this city on September 2.

Members of that party say that if Elkin had been named by the Republican state convention for governor the Union party probably would have placed upon its ticket almost anybody nominated by the Democrats, but that the naming of a candidate of such personal worth and accomplishments as Judge Pennypacker had in a manner "split the Union party" that is, so far as the governorship is concerned.

A few of those who had been most active in the Union party counsels during the Rothermel fight in this city last fall made haste as soon as Judge Pennypacker had been nominated to make themselves "regular" again by declaring themselves his supporters. Another element, regarding Judge Pennypacker as Quay's candidate, was in favor of the Union party nominating ex-Gov. Pattison.

This was the state of affairs when the Union party state committee met here on July 1. The secrets of that session were well guarded, but the participants are beginning to talk about what occurred there and are using arguments that they advanced then in behalf of their respective positions.

There was an element, though a small one, that was opposed to the holding of a state convention, being in favor of having the state organization follow the example of the city organization of the Union party and take a long rest.

It is now regarded as a certainty that the convention will make no nomination for governor, but will indorse George W. Guthrie, the Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, and an independent for secretary of internal affairs.

Judge Pennypacker paid his first visit to the Republican state headquarters today. He did not find Chairman Quay there, but met Senator Penrose, who is acting in his stead, and talked for some time with him and Secretary Wesley R. Andrews and Thomas V. Cooper.

ATLANTIC CITY.

A Pittsburgher Rescued by Two Philadelphia Girls—Senator Quay Leases a House.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 5.—(Special.)—The story of an exciting rescue of a Pittsburgher was learned today from one of the persons interested. Charles Cuskaden was given as the name of the Pittsburgher who owes his life to the courage and exertions of two girls. He and a friend were bathing near the Royal Palace hotel and after they had decided to return to the bathing house Cuskaden changed his mind and said he would take one more dive and a short swim.

His friends left the beach and in a short time Cuskaden was caught by the strong current sweeping out of the inlet. His efforts to reach shore exhausted him and he yelled for assistance.

The only persons who heard his call were two young women, Miss Katherine Tougue and Miss Blanche Sonheim of Philadelphia, who were bathing a short distance from where Cuskaden made his dive. The girls immediately went to his assistance, grasped him and held him up and managed to reach shore with their helpless burden. By this time all three were in a state of exhaustion and spectators gave timely aid.

PENNYPACKER IS PUT AT HEAD OF CITIZENS COLUMN

The Entire Republican State Ticket Unaminously Indorsed by Committee.

RINGING ADDRESS ISSUED

Citizens Give Out Statement in Which Policy Is Clearly Defined. Those Tired of Machine Methods Asked to Join Movement.

A body blow was dealt the county ticket of the organization yesterday by the Citizens county committee of 32. Republicans who are opposed to machine methods and to the county ticket named by the organization because of the machine taint which attaches to it, and yet who were fearing to scratch it lest by some error they might lessen the vote for Judge S. W. Pennypacker for governor, and for the rest of the state ticket, can now be sure that no such danger exists.

There will be a column on the official ballot, the Citizens party column, containing the names of the Republican state nominees and the fusion county ticket, so that a straight ticket can be voted without scratching.

Republican State Ticket Indorsed.

The Citizens committee of 32 met yesterday afternoon at the headquarters in Third avenue. Every member who is in the city attended. In the absence of Chairman Cadwallader Evans, Dr. S. S. Woodburn of Allegheny, presided. James W. Clark, secretary of the executive committee, was in his place.

John H. Trimble nomiated Judge Pennypacker for governor, and the nomination was unanimously carried. Dr. William McCracken nominated William M. Brown for lieutenant governor, and John G. Messler nomiated Isaac B. Brown for secretary of internal affairs. These nominations were also unanimously adopted.

The committee also authorized the issuance of an address to the voters of Allegheny county, reading as follows:

Address to the Citizens.

To the voters of Allegheny county:

The Citizens party desires to announce to the voters of Allegheny county the completion of its ticket and in that connection to make this statement:

For years the administration of the affairs of our county, both at home and in the legislative halls of state and nation, have been almost wholly in the hands of the corrupt rings which have dominated our cities.

Public offices have been bestowed as rewards for service to the ring, regardless of the needs or requirement of the taxpayers or of party ties. Public improvements have been made to yield great revenue to private purses and the good name of the county has been sacrificed.

In the accomplishment of these purposes the spirit and letter of the law and of public decency have been outraged; representative election made a farce; party obligations sacrificed; professional office holding has become a practice and a profession; the good name of the courts has been sullied and the people subjected to the insolent misrule of men whose only aim is personal gain and political aggrandizement.

So offensive had this become that the last legislature undertook to relieve the people of their burdens, but unsuccessfully.

Unparalleled Treachery Recalled.

Through the unparalleled treachery of Gov. William A. Stone, and by means of a despicable deal, the entire control of the governmental affairs of our city and county was transferred to the Flinn ring. Today our people are suffering under the double burden of Flinnism and Stoneism, and the disgrace of submitting to a government by transfer.

The Citizens party is organized to overturn this corrupt combination and to give the people self government and honest administration of public affairs. We believe and hold as our forefathers did in the Declaration of Independence, that when a long train of abuses and usurpations evinces a design to reduce them (the people) under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty to throw off such government and to provide new guards for their future security.

The Citizens committee of 32, which prepared and now presents this ticket, has had in mind solely the selection of candidates who are representative of the idea of honest government for all interests alike. Honesty, high character and special fitness for the place to be filled have been the commendatory terms. The desire has been to secure business men, whose trained methods will bring order out of chaos, stop the flow of willful waste, stay the hand of the plunderer and bring about an administration of prudence and economy that will be felt in every home. The ticket presents men learned in the law, and from all the business channels, the mine, the mill and the trades, men who will ever be loyal to their fellows and to the common weal.

Demands of People Conserved.

Indorsements of present officials have been avoided, your committee believing that the people demand a new, clean ticket, free from all odor of Flinnism, all taint of Stoneism; one that in its individual and united strength is a guarantee of good government.

In selecting the ticket a fusion has been arranged with the Democratic party, the committee believing thoroughly that all parties should be represented in this cause.

In appealing to all the people of Allegheny county for support for the ticket nominated, the Citizens party submits that the ordinary ties are annulled when any party becomes the possession of a clique and is used for personal gain, and we call attention to the fact that the ticket masquerading under the title of the Republican party is, in fact, the product of a boss, constructed in the payment of rewards for loyalty to his personal cause, and we claim that the men so nominated are obligated to carry on the same system as heretofore. We do not believe that public office is a perquisite of any clique, nor the holding of public office a life-long occupation.

The chief object of the Citizens party is reform in the administration of public affairs and the abolishment of political insurgents who are guided and governed by an unscrupulous boss. Those who have enlisted in this cause of reform are the true Republicans and the true Democrats who abhor the existence of the political clique composed of professional office seekers, presenting themselves to the public under the name and style "organization men," while in fact to them is credited the attempt to disrupt both of the great political parties.

Under these circumstances we appeal to all honest citizens to unite with us regardless of past party affiliations.

Outraged Sentiment Can Be Expressed.

The results of our February election should prove to the most doubting that the power lies in the people to change the existing political conditions, and that no matter how strongly the corrupt administration may be entrenched and strengthened by public patronage, an outraged public sentiment can and will be expressed successfully through the ballot.

The history of past elections shows that only about one-half of those qualified avail themselves of the right to vote. We appeal at this time to all citizens to come out into the street, show their colors, and in November to exercise the franchise given them, thus fulfilling the highest duty of citizenship and insuring the success of the movement for reform and good government.

In behalf of itself and of the candidates nominated, the Citizens party renews its pledge to give to the people an honest administration of public offices, progressive, yet economical; to have their representatives in the state and national legislatures look faithfully after the diverse interests of the community rather than the private interests of any clique, and to restore to the people their full share in the management of their affairs, which has so long been denied them.

Taking the ticket as a whole we believe that all intelligent voters will agree that there has not for years past been presented to the people of this county such an array of capable, trustworthy and responsible persons. We, therefore, ask the earnest support and cooperation of all, believing that a glorious victory for honest government is at hand.

CADWALLADER EVANS, Chairman.
J. W. CLARK, Secretary.

The indorsement of the Republican state ticket by the Citizens is something the organization men have all along been fearing. They have tried in every possible way to prevent it. They have threatened to go into the courts to have such action declared null and void. Senator Quay has been threatened with the defection of the Pittsburgh machine, if he did not prevent the indorsement of Pennypacker and Brown by the Citizens party, and other threats have been indulged in. It now remains to be seen whether the Sixth avenue outfit will attempt to carry out any of their dire threatenings.

Committee on Notification.

Charles S. Crawford and Dr. Cadwallader Evans have been appointed a committee to notify the Republican state nominees that they are indorsed by the Citizens. Dr. Evans is out of town, but when he returns he and Mr. Crawford will agree upon a date on which to make the notification.

The Democratic nominating committees of the Third and Sixth legislative districts, met yesterday, indorsed the fusion ticket and abandoned the idea of insisting that a Democrat from each of those districts be placed on the fusion legislative ticket.

Chairman A. C. Roberston of the machine county committee, yesterday appointed a campaign committee, which is expected to work during the heated term, while the real politicians of the machine are cooling off in Canada and conferring with William Flinn. This is the committee: Theodore S. Shaffer, president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers; Wm. Dodds, secretary of the miners' union; Emanuel Wertheimer of Pittsburgh, George F. F. Falkenstein of McKeesport, Morgan E. Gabie, Oliver S. Hershman, Recorder J. O. Brown, Robert Ostermaier and Thomas G. McClure, all of Pittsburgh. The three last named are members of the committee by virtue of being respectively chairman, secretary and treasurer of the city Republican committee.

James E. Flinn's Retirement.

James E. Flinn, for a number of years minute clerk in criminal court, was yesterday summarily discharged by Clerk of Courts George W. Miller. Flinn's removal has been expected since last February, when Miller relieved him from the position of minute clerk and made him a transcribing clerk. Frederick Goettman was then given Flinn's position.

Yesterday Flinn returned from a few days' vacation. When he entered the clerk of courts office he saw Charles E. Whitesides at his desk and before Flinn could make any inquiry into the matter he was informed by some of the clerks that he had been dismissed.

When seen Flinn refused to talk except to say that he had not been officially notified. Miller said he had good reasons for dismissing Flinn, and denied that it was for any political effect. Miller said Flinn would have to divulge the reason for his dismissal if if was to be made public.

Citizens Meeting at Oakmont.

In Oakmont, the home of Arch H. Rowand, the head of the new "Straightout" party movement, the Citizens last night showed that they stand firm for the fusion ticket, county, legislative, state and congressional. A big meeting was held and the borough was organized for the Citizens party. Scores of the men who attended the meeting and cheered the anti-machine sentiments expressed were men whom Rowand recently enrolled for the Citizens party before the "Straightout" light fell upon him.

J. A. Wahlgren was elected chairman and C. N. Jones secretary of the new organization. Speeches were made by Samuel G. Bailey, the Citizens party's candidate for the legislature from the Eighth district; Thomas Barnshall, William Siebart, C. N. Jones and J. A. Wahlgren. The meeting was held in Kletzy's hall. In the same hall on next Tuesday evening the organization will hold another meeting. All the fusion county and legislative candidates will be present.

FOOD TREATMENT.

Old Stomachs Made Over.

Improper medicine knocks out as many stomachs as bad food, but proper food will nearly always restore the health that Nature intended.

"I suffered with chronic constipation for a long time and two years ago became an invalid, being unable to retain anything on my stomach," says Mrs. F. M. Buss of Millersburg, Ky.

Physicians pronounced it catarrh of the stomach and bowels. In fact, the entire alimentary canal was involved, caused, they said, by continued use of purgatives. For several weeks I could not retain more than a teaspoonful of any kind of fluid at any time and at this stage of my illness a friend suggested that I try Grape-Nuts.

"I commenced by taking only a teaspoonful at a time of the water poured, while boiling, over two teaspoonfuls of the Grape-Nuts. In five days I was able to digest a teaspoonful of the Grape-Nuts themselves, and in less than a month could digest an ordinary meal. I can eat anything now, after having used Grape-Nuts for nearly two years, and am entirely cured of constipation. It is a wholesome, pure and inexpensive food."

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 6, 1902.

TWELVE PAGES.

Indorsed Upon Its Merits.

While the indorsement of the Republican state ticket by the Citizens party is not wholly a surprise, it is a gratifying confirmation of the good judgment of the leaders of that party. The public address, issued by the committee, fully states the reasons that have led a considerable number of Republican voters to join hands with the Democrats in support of a fusion county ticket. There is no denying those voters are earnest in their convictions and have some ground for their protest against boss rule.

This indorsement of the Republican state ticket is in full accord with the highest aspirations of any body of citizens to see only good men elected to public office. Judge Pennypacker is representative in his life, career and sentiments of the highest order of politics. Affairs of state committed to his hands will be treated as a public trust. He has the conscience and the courage to frown upon all schemes for private aggrandizement at the expense of the public—the sort of plundering of the body politic that has been so long notorious in Allegheny county.

With the names of the Republican state candidates heading both the Republican and Citizens party tickets there can be no reasonable doubt they will receive the usual majority of votes in this county. The state ticket, by this indorsement, is removed from the pale of factional strife which might otherwise have been detrimental to it. Every Republican, be his local affiliations what they may, is given opportunity to vote the state ticket as he desires.

There has been some talk about the Republican organization objecting to the placing of the names of the party candidates for state offices on the Citizens ticket. It is not likely there is any truth in it. The Republican county organization is naturally concerned most of all in the success of the state ticket—all good Republicans are—and it so it cannot object to any indorsement that promises to swell the victorious vote. The organization did make a serious mistake in refusing to separate the primaries for the election of delegates to the state convention from those for the nomination of candidates for county offices, but that is no reason why it should commit such an egregious blunder as to protest against the state ticket getting all the votes its high character entitles it to command.

One Bit of Knowledge.

Councilman Semmelrock's investigation concerning the probable cost of taking over the Monongahela Water Company is all right in a way. It never does any harm to investigate. Knowledge is power. But it is pertinent to say that one bit of knowledge now in possession of the public will operate to prevent the payment of any exorbitant price for the South Side water mains. That is that the water company's charter will expire in a few years.

It would be folly for the city of Pittsburgh to pay a fancy price for the old pipes of the Monongahela company, with the time so close at hand when it may go forth and put in a modern system of its own. It will be remembered the city paid rather more than they were worth for some of the bridges to the South Side in preference to building between them. It is now reconstructing one at a greater cost than would have been required to parallel it before that purchase was made, bridge material being cheap at that time. It will not be wise to repeat that experiment with the South Side water plant.

There is no doubt the South Side is entitled to full participation in any measures that may be taken to supply the city with pure water. Whether the expensive project of sand filtration, the scheme for piping water from the mountains or the plan of purifying by electricity is finally adopted, the South Side must be included. Yet even this fact is no warrant for buying old water mains at the price of new, or at an even greater price. Councilmanic investigators will do well to fix this clearly in their minds before starting their inquiry.

Sugar Beet Acreage.

The noise made by the beet sugar insurgents has been exceedingly disproportionate to the extent of the beet sugar industry. Sugar beet culture has received special encouragement by the national and state authorities, and such encouragement is highly proper, but the response has been slow. Statistics from the agricultural department show that only 260,000 acres are devoted to sugar beets in the whole United States. This area is scarcely one-fifth of the acreage devoted to corn last year in our own state of Pennsylvania, which does not set up to be a corn-producing state. Last year in the United States 83,000,000 acres were planted with corn. This comparison with the insignificant beet sugar acreage is merely for the purpose of showing the falsity of the beet sugar advocates' position that every farmer in the country is interested in beet sugar culture. Think of 260,000 acres of sugar beets obstructing the Cuban reciprocity plan, and that, too, when it has been shown that the beet sugar industry would not suffer from the enactment of the proposed law!

Bathing in the Rivers.

Capt. W. L. Sibert, government engineer, offers a timely suggestion about public bathing. It is that the city authorities might designate certain places in the rivers for the purpose—portions that are known to be safe and free from dredge holes. It is too late to talk about public bath houses for this year. That subject has been agitated every summer for as long as the ordinary inhabitant can remember, and has been just as carefully forgotten or ignored when the appropriation ordinances have been framed. But the suggestion of Capt. Sibert requires no long time for preparation and practically no expense. It could be put in force this week if a proper disposition is shown.

Surely the drowning of three little boys on Sunday last, and of others at other times during this season, lends emphasis enough to the plea for safe public bathing. Bath houses there will be some time, let us hope not later than next year. But for the remainder of this summer there may well be river bathing, pleasant, wholesome and secure.

Gesundheit!

The true policy for a prophet is found in the familiar advice: "Don't prophesy unless you know." Rear Admiral Taylor of the United States navy, who has been given the reputation of a prophet, admits that he is not sufficiently well informed to be the author of a prophecy that has been attributed to him, and asserts that for that reason and several others he did not prophesy. The Hon. William C. Whitney, former secretary of the navy, recently pointed to the failure of the next Democratic campaign for the presidency in an admission that the Democratic party lacks an issue and a man. He later supplemented it with the statement that had he known it was to be printed in the papers he would have materially modified it. Rear Admiral Taylor does not say of the words attributed to him that he would have modified them had he known they were to appear in print, but that he did not utter them. The matter of the alleged prophecy, though, not its exact words, appears in this extract from the press reports:

> To Rear Admiral Taylor was given the credit of warning the leaders of the United States navy and army that preparations must begin at once, and be vigorously prosecuted from this time forth, for a grave crisis in German-American relations in the spring of 1907.
> The time of this crisis is fixed coincident with the most efficient sea power Germany now contemplates—the time when the Panama canal will be occupying much attention in this country, when the Cuban republic may have about reached the end of its tether, when Jamaica and other West Indian islands will be prostrate in bankruptcy, when the Netherlands will have been absorbed by Germany, leaving Curacao and the other Dutch islands of the Caribbean set as bones of contention to force a supreme test of the Monroe doctrine.

This, it will be observed, reads much like a chapter from a historical (hysterical?) romance. It will be regarded in the United States as something of that nature, but in Germany, in advance of the receipt of Rear Admiral Taylor's denial, it has been taken seriously. Perhaps the failure of Emperor William's American-built yacht, the Meteor, has prepared the German mind to accept as the real thing any seeming cause for offense from the direction of America. We, however, trust that our rear admiral's disclaimer will make head against the tide of indignant German protest, though it must be admitted that the frequent recurrence of reports of seemingly hostile utterances of American naval officers must rankle in the German breast and leave a bad impression on the German mind. Speaking for himself, Rear Admiral Taylor says:

> Such assertions as have been credited to me are without foundation other than that I have said our seacoast defenses should be well protected against attack by any European power. All naval officers are of this opinion. It would be ridiculous for me to predict a war with any nation.

Speaking for the American people, we say to Germany: "That's the way we all feel about it. Let us have peace."

Let us also point out to our German friends that government statistics recently printed show that in forty years the production of malt liquor in the United States rose from 2,006,625 barrels to 34,330,049 barrels, and that at the present time, it is declared, we blow the froth from ninety per cent of the volume of beverages that cheer, against a consumption of but ten per cent of all other beverages. So that if we do not actually "Hoch der Kaiser," we go through many of the motions that lead up to it, not forgetting the fame that Milwaukee, among the cities that Prince Henry visited, has earned in helping to supply the information. If anything else is needed to convict us of German tastes and acquit us of hostility to Germany and things German, let us point to the prevalence of Wagner opera and Wagner music in the United States and our constant love for that little German band. Doubtless Dr. von Holleben can testify to all this, and more.

Just as Mr. Whitney would have modified the declaration attributed to him, had he known it was to appear in print, so the American people, had they known the statement attributed to Rear Admiral Taylor was to appear in print, would have modified it, though more emphatically, by erasing it. But now that it has appeared in print, they will rise up as one man and wipe it off the slate. We have too much in common with the German people to want to quarrel with them. We won't quarrel with them. Prosit!

Pure Food Activity.

The information again comes from Harrisburg that Mr. Cope, dairy and food commissioner, is about to prosecute some large meat dealers for selling preserved meats doctored with sulphites. It is Mr. Cope's opinion that sulphites are exceedingly deleterious articles of diet—much more injurious, in fact, than borax or boracic acid.

Furthermore, Mr. Cope issued an order in April commanding the beef trust to withdraw its doctored meat from the Pennsylvania market. Not to be too harsh with the beef trust, he considerately gave the purveyors three months or more in which to work off their product. This consideration seemed at the time to be ill-advised, since it showed more regard for the packers than for the persons who would have to eat the objectionable meat. The present condition of affairs appears to show that the kindness of Mr. Cope was wasted on the purveyors, and that he has to begin again just where he began in April. But now, if the news from Harrisburg be correct, sulphited meat will really have to go, and no favors will be shown to any users of preservatives.

Railroads in the United States.

The first half of the year 1902 saw the aggregate mileage of American railways bought up to and moved beyond the 200,000 mile line. Lest this total should not impress the reader with its full significance a few comparisons may be useful. The British Isles have about 22,000 miles of main track; Germany has 32,000; France, 27,000; Russia, 29,000; Austria-Hungary, 23,000. The continent of Europe has something like 175,000 miles of road. The whole world's railroad mileage is approximately 500,000. When it is borne in mind that about two-fifths of the globe's railways are in the United States, one can form some idea of the progress of this country in railroad construction, and of the bearing transportation facilities have in the opening of productive territory as well as in the carrying of products to market.

Doubtless our friend Mr. Eugene M. O'Neill has been caused some annoyance by the published statements concerning his naturalization, and it is also probable that many persons have been misled by them into believing that all these years Mr. O'Neill thought himself a citizen he was in law an alien. But Mr. O'Neill has been a citizen all the time. He has voted, he has been a member of councils and has had the right to vote and the right to sit in the municipal legislature as the representative of his ward. There was an error in the record—only that and nothing more. Mr. O'Neill's citizenship was established by an order of court on September 27, 1872, but the order through a not unnatural mistake was not made a matter of record. It is now properly recorded and Mr. O'Neill has been given the proper certificate, but his citizenship dates from September 27, 1872, and not from Monday of this week. And it may be said in conclusion that Pittsburgh cannot have too many citizens of his type.

Out in Westmoreland county, too, "Pomona" enjoys a strange popularity as a beverage in prohibition localities. Just at present the matter is before the court to determine whether the popularity is due to the fruity flavor of the name or the percentage of alcohol in the drink.

A car loaded with dynamite which jumped the track at Carnegie was treated with distinguished respect by the train crew in getting it back upon the rails.

An Actor's Summer Idyll.

From the New York World.

Oh, I like to spend the summer
Down at honest old St. James,
Where actors drop their foolish ways
And use their family names;
Where Aubrey Vere de Vere
Becomes plain Timothy McCann,
And idols of the matinee
Act like a common man.
No managers invade St. James,
No contracts keep us seared,
No one-night stands, no longish jumps
That find us unprepared.
The piece we play is "Sweet Content,"
To starship no one claims,
Here's to a good long summer rest
At honest old St. James.

—DE WOLF WOFFER.

ALL INTERESTED IN MILLIONAIRES

Affairs of the Heart Among Them Enlist Sympathies of Other Classes.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Aug. 5.

It is a sign of the times that the ordinary people in New York take a warm personal interest in the engagements and marriages of the upper ten thousand. Ten years ago the engagement of Reginald C. Vanderbilt to Miss Kathleen Neilson would not have been a general topic of conversation with the people as soon as announced in the newspapers. The fact that young Vanderbilt is seven or eight times a millionaire, and that Miss Neilson is a member of a distinguished family, would have caused the printed announcement to be read with some interest; but after reading it, little more would have been thought about it outside the set in which the young couple move. But it is all different now. In New York, at least, the wealthy class are objects of deep and continuous interest with those who have not any more money than they can use without distress. The fact that Reggie Vanderbilt was plucked at Yale may not have much to do with it; again, it may. The young fellow is extremely popular in this city, not only with men of his own set, but with others who have been brought into contact with him casually and have been attracted by his democratic good fellowship. This may be one reason why everyone seems to be talking tonight about his engagement to Miss Neilson. The Vanderbilt boys have never shown a disposition to stand off because they are rich, and their doings are always felt to be a personal matter with most New Yorkers. If you take six out of every seven men-about-town whom you may meet at the hotels in the evening you will find that they can tell you all about the Vanderbilt marriages, and—whisper—the divorces as well. Aside from this fact, which might be supposed to call more than usual attention to the engagement just announced, the doings of the swell set are watched much more closely nowadays than they were in the last decade of the century which has just passed away. I am speaking of New York, but, doubtless, the same observation could be made of Pittsburgh.

Jean de Reszke's Farewell.

Jean de Reszke has written to a friend in this city that he will not sing in New York next winter. This has been generally understood, but some sanguine admirers of the great tenor have insisted that he will be back at the Metropolitan when the opera season opens. It is to be hoped that this letter from Jean will set all doubts at rest; but, of course, it won't. Edouard will be here, playing the devil—literally, I mean—and other parts in his repertoire.

Militarism in the Hotels.

There is no better place to mark the increasing love of military display and maneuvers than the lobby of a large hotel. The colored help, in particular, are great soldiers. In one of the Broadway hotels uptown, much patronized by Pittsburghers, the colored hall men are changed at noon. Things were quiet in the lobby at that hour today, for the clerks and bookkeepers were deep in their books and the loungers were all sitting peacefully on the sofas, when the steady tramp, tramp of what sounded like a regiment of infantry, broke the stillness. The regiment consisted of six colored hall men in blue and brass, with an especially resplendent mulatto in a more gorgeous uniform walking at the head of the procession. He lined his six men in front of a bench before the desk, looked them over sharply to see that they were "eyes front," and hissed "attention." Then as he clapped his hands once the six men hinged their legs simultaneously and dropped into their seats like a row of wooden soldiers. The mulatto wiped his brow with a highly-perfumed handkerchief, glanced at the head clerk for approval, and as the first man responded with a jerk to the cry of "front," went to the main doorway to look at the sunlight of Broadway with the air of a successful major general. The whole performance was excruciatingly funny, but I am sure that mulatto would have committed assault and battery on anyone who dared to laugh.

Heat Kills a Cook.

Although the heat is not excessive in New York, a man died from the effects of it today in the New York hospital. He was stricken yesterday in a hotel where he was employed as a cook and never rallied. It is not uncommon in Pittsburgh for mill men and other workmen employed in a superheated atmosphere to die when the mercury is not very high outside, but in New York such occurrences are unusual enough to provoke comment.

Angling for Out-of-Town Merchants.

This is the summer buying season, and there are a great many retail merchants in New York, including a number from Pittsburgh. The Merchants' association here obtains for merchants in various parts of the country reduced rates of fare on the railroads, with the natural result that the fall buying season has opened with a boom. The out-of-town register at the rooms of the association makes it is easy to tell how many are here. Indications are that the fall trade will be very heavy—all the more so because summer business in retail establishments in eastern cities has not been as good as might be desired.

McGlory's Old Dive Sold.

Billy McGlory's notorious music hall in West Fifty-ninth street was sold today under the hammer at foreclosure sale. The place has not been used for its old purpose for many years, but the fragrance as a "dive" has never evaporated. People passing have pointed it out to strangers as the old McGlory place, and many are the tales told of the orgies that used to be carried on there in the old days, when a hand-out to Tammany would license everything or anything. The property is leasehold and the lease has 18 years to run. The judgment and unpaid taxes against it amount to $4,333 77, and it was bidden in by Alfred Beinhauer for $5,325.

Lazy Police Captains Aroused.

Among the changes made in the conduct of the police department is a rule inserted in the manual by Commissioner Partridge, requiring police captains to frequently visit portions of their respective precincts at uncertain hours of the day or night. The object is that they shall know from their own observation what really is going on in the district in their charge, both as to bad characters and the policemen. When a patrolman does not know at what moment his captain may confront him on his beat he is likely to be more vigilant than when he is assured that his superior officer is tucked snugly into bed. Many police captains make it a rule to prowl about their precincts, particularly in the night; but others love their ease too much for this kind of performance, and it is this latter class which the commissioner wants to wake up.

Hebrews May Get Justice.

If the action of the magistrate who listened to the complaints of Hebrews today of their being assaulted by employes of R. Hoe & Co. may be taken as a criterion, the people who were in Rabbi Joseph's funeral procession may be avenged. Two of the men employed in the factory were each held for trial for assault in $500 bail. It is long since so much feeling was excited in a similar way in this city, sympathy generally being with the Hebrews.

Tim Woodruff Home from Europe.

Tim Woodruff, New York state's lieutenant governor, got home from Europe today on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse. His first statement for publication on landing was that he would not again be a candidate for the lieutenant governorship. He would not say that he will not be a candidate for some other office, however. Mr. Woodruff was quietly dressed, as was generally observed, and none of his many gorgeous waistcoats made part of his attire. He will probably wear one of them tomorrow as he walks about New York city, and in that hope his friends were able to bear their disappointment today.

Once With Harris' Museum.

George O. Starr of the Barnum-Bailey show, who has been in this country for some weeks making arrangements for the tour of the circus next year, will sail for Southampton tomorrow on the American liner Philadelphia. Mrs. Starr accompanies him. Time was when there was not a theatrical man better known in Pittsburgh than George O. Starr. He was manager of the Avenue theater, then known as Harris' museum, for years. At about the same time Mrs. Starr, professionally called "Zazel," was performing a thrilling trapeze feat in the circus ring, being shot out of a cannon to a bar high up in the great tent. Middle-aged Pittsburghers remember George O. Starr and Zazel well enough, but there is an immense population of youngsters in Pittsburgh to whom the names are purely historical. And yet Mr. and Mrs. Starr are both in the prime of life, with old age two or three generations in the future.

Struggle for Tammany Leadership.

Haffen, the Tammany triumvir to whom Devery has attached the nickname "Joke," was not at the meeting arranged for the committee at the wigwam today. Ever since the formation of the triumvirate reports have been circulated that it would go out of existence before the campaign begins. Haffen's absence from the first meeting since the committee's vacation revived these reports. It is a fact, however, that no arrangement has yet been made to disband the triumvirate. Nobody believes that it can exist through the next municipal campaign. Tammany is so organized that it must have a single leader; but just now there is no plan for a change in the rule of the organization. "Big Bill" Devery has his eye on the place that Croker used to fill, but it is understood that the "chief" must prove his strength in the Ninth district before he can formally set himself to become leader of Tammany hall, with his court at the Democratic club and his ponderous form in the easy chair formerly occupied by the sage of Wantage. Devery believes he will gain his point, both in the district in which he lives and in the city at large, and there is no one bold enough to say he is mistaken.

Mystery About an Art Donation.

According to the Commercial Advertiser of this city, an art collection, valued at more than $500,000, was presented some time ago to the Metropolitan Museum of Art. A condition of the gift was that the name and nature of the collection and the name of the donor should be kept absolutely secret until such a time as he should appoint. Gen. Louis P. Di Cesnola, director of the museum, today confirmed the fact of the gift, but would give no particulars about it or its former owner, as he said he was bound in honor not to. The gift is not the Garland collection, lent to the museum by J. Pierpont Morgan, who recently purchased it, which is now being mounted in the south gallery of the new Fifth avenue wing of the museum. It is not a collection of china, and it is not a collection of paintings. The work of mounting it in the north wing of the addition is to begin next October. The walls of this wing, which is identical with the south wing, are now faced by elaborate glass cases, exactly like those in which the Garland porcelain is being put. These cases will have to be removed to receive the new collection. The cost of this change and of mounting the gift will be over $50,000. The donor of the new collection will pay this bill.

Pittsburghers Going Abroad.

These Pittsburghers will be passengers on the steamer Philadelphia, when she sails from this port for Southampton: William Hall, Jr., Mrs. Hall and Mr. Camille Mercader.

Blindness a Cause for Divorce.

Is blindness a matrimonial crime? A woman in this city has sued her husband because he was stricken blind about four years ago and is living in a charitable institution on Staten Island known as "Sailors' Snug Harbor." She says he has deserted her. He says he is in the "harbor" with his wife's consent, and that he is blind through no fault of his own. His lawyer finds another reason why the wife should not obtain a divorce in the fact that she lives in New York and yet is suing for divorce in New Jersey. The couple formerly lived in Newark, N. J., and the courts are all tangled up as to their jurisdiction in the case. If it should be decided that blindness is ground for divorce, it may lead to a revision of the divorce laws in more than one state.

The New Subway Cars.

Two sample cars that will be used in the rapid transit tunnel when completed are on exhibition for the benefit of officials of the company. They are pronounced capital in their way. Each car in use in the subway will be 50 feet long and 4 inches less in height than the present elevated cars. There will be seating capacity for 52 persons and standing room for 50 more. Entrance will be at the ends, and these will have vestibule doors. There will be 14 glass lights on each side of the cars, with only space between them for the frames which hold the panes. On the outside, along the length of the car, above the windows, is the word "Inter-borough." The roof of the cars will be white, to help out the light in the tunnel. Special devices are to be used to prevent telescoping in case of collision and to guard against fire. GEORGE C. JENKS.

Forced to Explain.

From the Milwaukee Free Press.

George W. Cable, in talking to a Sunday school class of little girls one day, said that he had three children at home and half of them were girls. To one puzzled small person he explained blandly that the other half were girls also.

SULTAN SAZYD IS OXFORD GRADUATE

Zanzibar's New Sovereign Recalls One of the Best Jokes of "Punch."

By the MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

It is an Oxford graduate and a crack football player who has just ascended the throne of Zanzibar as its sultan. He dresses wholly in European fashion, and it is only his dusky hue and the curly black hair that betray the African potentate. He is 18 years of age, bears the name of "Sazyd Ali Bin Hamud," is, of course, a Mohammedan, and belongs to one of the most ancient dynasties in existence, namely, that of Zenj, which for centuries claimed and vindicated the title of "Sovereigns of the Seas." His father, a grand looking Arab, who abolished the slave trade in his dominions, never visited Europe. But his predecessor on the throne came to England when Lord Beaconsfield was last in office, his visit giving the occasion for one of the best cartoons that ever appeared in Punch. Lord Beaconsfield was represented as urging upon the sultan the necessity of introducing European civilization into Zanzibar, to which the sultan was portrayed as replying, "Remember, oh Sheikh Ben-Dizzy Conservative party very strong in Zanzibar." It was on that occasion, too, that Lord Chamberlain's department rendered themselves guilty of the ridiculous "faux pas" of selecting "L'Africaine" as the opera to be given at a state performance in the sultan's honor at Covent Garden.

Released From a Swindler.

The French courts have just dissolved the marriage of that Russian-born adventurer, who alternately styles himself "Prince Savine" and "Count de Toulouse-Lautrec," and whose picture figures in almost every rogues' gallery of this continent as that of a singularly successful swindler, who seems to make a specialty of swindling that particular class of rich people who prefer to pocket their loss rather than face the ridicule and put up with the loss of time and annoyance entailed by prosecuting him. Thanks to this he has been remarkably fortunate in escaping the penalties of his numerous frauds.

The French courts have annulled the marriage to the unfortunate Mlle. Clemence Bervoort, a daughter of respectable and well-to-do parents in France on the ground that in marrying her he had intentionally deceived her by falsely representing himself to be "Count de Toulouse-Lautrec," and a scion of that well-known house of the French nobility which has one branch in France and the other in Russia, but with neither of which the adventurer Savine—that is his real name—has ever had the slightest relationship.

The impudence of the man will be appreciated when I add that on being confronted by incontrovertible evidence showing that he had no right whatsoever to the name of "Count Toulouse-Lautrec," and that his claims to relationship were indignantly repudiated by the Russian and French branches of that family, he protested that he, nevertheless, had a right to that name and title on the ground that he had been naturalized as an American citizen under the name of "Toulouse Lautrec," the papers having been delivered by the circuit court of Cook county, Illinois, bearing the date of April 27.

Titled by Henry Labouchere.

This reminds me of the numerous people bearing ornate handles to their names, and who are indebted for their high-sounding titles to Henry Labouchere. When the latter was attached to the British legation at Dresden, Munich, Stuttgart and other small German courts, he was frequently called upon to make out passports for bona fide Englishmen and likewise for foreigners claiming English citizenship, and who had adorned themselves with self-assumed titles of nobility, to which they had no vestige of a right.

Labouchere, according to his own admissions, never made the slightest difficulty about inscribing these titles on the passport without any regard to their validity, taking the ground that it gave the applicants for the passports pleasure, hurt nobody, and cost the English government nothing.

The consequence is that there are many titled personages in Europe today whose sole patents of nobility, if I may call them such, are the English passports delivered to their fathers and grandfathers 40 years or more ago, by Henry Labouchere.

Let me add with regard to the adventurer "Toulouse-Lautrec," that in spite of the annulment of his marriage on the ground of the fraud perpetrated in connection therewith, the girl born to the union is expressly declared by the French courts to be legitimate, the case recalling, in a measure, that of the reigning prince of Monaco and of his first wife, Lady Mary Hamilton, whose child, the present crown prince of Monaco, was likewise declared to be legitimate in spite of the annulment of the marriage.

Priest's Romantic Antesedents.

Count Albert Meran, who has just just been ordained as a priest, and who has celebrated as such his first mass in the parish church of the village of Aussee, enjoys the distinction of having as one of his great-grandfathers, Emperor Francis I. of Austria, and as the other, the postmaster of the village of Aussee.

It was the daughter of the postmaster in question who won the heart and the hand of Archduke John of Austria. The latter was posting through the Tyrolese Alpine region and stopped at Aussee in order to change horses and to dine. When the moment came to resume the journey the old postmaster found to his horror that while the necessary horses were there, there was no postillion, the man who ordinarily filled that office having been sent off into the mountains to hunt for some lost cattle.

Realizing that her father would lose his job as postmaster if reported at headquarters as not having had a postillion on hand for the service of the archduke, the girl, Anna Plochl, arrayed herself in the breeches, jacket and jackboots of the postillion, mounted the near wheel horse and drove the archduke's carriage all the way to the next station. As the girl was somewhat buxom her appearance naturally attracted the attention of the archduke, and before he dismissed her he asked her for an explanation, which he received along with an entreaty not to visit her father with any punishment.

The archduke was so much fascinated by the adventure, as well as by its heroine, that he returned shortly afterward to Aussee for the special purpose of becoming better acquainted with the fair Anne, whom he eventually married, morganatically, the emperor sanctioning the match and conferring upon the postmaster's daughter the title of Countess Meran, which is now borne by her grandchildren, who are held in high regard by the imperial family, not it is true as princes of the blood, but, nevertheless, as kinsfolk.

A suit for divorce, which is attracting an immense amount of attention in Europe, is that which has just been brought by the deputy warden of the great Austrian penitentiary of Meollendorf, against his wife, in which he cites the ex-Capt. Count Keglevitch as co-respondent, and as the cause of his domestic misfortunes.

The ex-captain, it may be remembered, is undergoing a long term of penal servitude as a party to those frauds by means of which he is said to have obtained large sums of money for Princess Philip of Saxe-Coburg-Kohary on bills bearing the forged signature of her sister, the ex-crown princess Stephanie (now Countess Lonjay).

But it is generally believed, and has frequently been alleged in the press and even in the national legislature, that the real crime for which the ex-captain is suffering, is for that of having been the companion of the flight of the princess when she abandoned her home and her husband.

PERSONALS.

Guests at the Monongahela house eyed with reminiscences of cooler weather the large stock of Christmas toys and decorations packed there yesterday. These works of Santa Claus are brought at this time, over four months before Christmas, to the city for samples. Already the traveling salesmen are taking orders for the dealers' supply and it is said that the amount bought this year will break all records by reason of the continued prosperity. There are few new designs of toys, but the old standards are in abundance. On a warm day such as yesterday it was as good as a cool breeze to look on these companions of December weather.

Capt. H. O. Winters, O. G. Switzer of Philipsburg and William J. Robinson of Philadelphia, who are associated in the British American Dredging Company, will leave tomorrow on the return trip to the Atlin region of British Columbia, where their mining claims are located. At San Francisco they will receive the dredge with which this placer mining is to carried on.

The Rev. Dr. John Crockar White, rector of St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal church, who conducted the funeral services over the remains of the late Theodore R. Hostetter yesterday, returned again last evening to his summer home in the Catskills. He spent only the one day in this city.

MONEY FOR A HOSPITAL

Henry Rustemeir Leaves Money to the Institution in Which He Died. Provided His Last Hours Were Made Comfortable—Court News.

The will of Mrs. D. E. Taylor of Pittsburgh was filed for probate in the register's office. The value of the estate is not made public, but it is said to be about $75,000. The testatrix gives $1,500 to the Women's Baptist Home Missionary society and $1,500 to the Woman's Baptist Foreign Missionary society. The residue of the estate is given to brothers and sisters and other relatives.

Henry Rustemeier, who died recently in St. Francis' hospital, by his will filed for probate, leaves $100 to the St. Augustine Roman Catholic church, in trust, to be used not more than $2 a year for taking care of the testator's grave. To the pastor of the St. Augustine church he leaves $500 for masses for himself and family. Elizabeth Bickbolter is given $100 and the residue of the estate goes to the St. Francis hospital, at Forty-fourth street, "provided the sisters have taken good care of me and treated me considerately during my last sickness, according to the chaplain and the executor of my will;" otherwise the residue goes to the pastor of the St. Augustine church. John Fink of the Fifteenth ward is made executor.

PULLMAN COMPANY SUED.

Baltimore Man Alleges Injury and Humiliation and Demands Damages.

Louis W. Reilly has sued the Pullman Car Company for $5,000 damages. The plaintiff avers that his family lives in Baltimore, that on Sunday, February 2, last, he bought a ticket from Baltimore to Pittsburgh and asked for a lower berth. He says he was told he could not get one, but that if he would pay for a berth his name would be placed on the train card and if there should be a berth the conductor would give it to him.

He paid for a berth, he alleges, but the conductor told him he knew nothing of this arrangement and that he would have to pay or get out of the car. The plaintiff avers that by reason of his having given his wife all of his money except enough for breakfast he was without funds and was compelled to tell this to the conductor in the presence of other passengers, much to his humiliation. He avers that he was compelled to ride all night in a day coach.

Reilly states that his eyesight was bad and he was nervous from sickness, and that riding in a day coach when he needed rest aggravated his condition so that he is unable to work at his occupation—that of a journalist and editorial writer.

REPORT MADE ON A DISPUTE.

Referee Makes Known Findings in a Partnership Dispute.

Joseph M. Swearingen, referee in the partnership dispute between DeWitt Dilworth and Arthur Kennedy and others, filed his report in common pleas court No. 2. Dilworth, Kennedy and Francis J. Torrance several years ago decided to construct and operate the Indiana railway system at South Bend, Ind. A dispute arose and Dilworth found himself out of a position. He filed a bill in equity to recover his share of the enterprise.

The master found that Kennedy should account to Dilworth for one-sixth of the profits of the partnership. Mr. Swearingen finds that one-sixth of the shares of stock is worth $22,416.67, which amount Dilworth must account to Kennedy for inside of 30 days, otherwise the master recommends that the bill be dismissed.

Dispute Over a Landing.

The A. R. Budd Coal Company filed a bill in equity in common pleas court No. 1 against the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, asking for an injunction to restrain the latter from interfering with the plaintiff's use of certain portions of the Monongahela wharf, which it leased from the city. The plaintiff about a year ago leased, for $1,500 a year, 500 feet of the wharf and it is alleged has been hampered in the use of it by employes and agents of the coal company. The plaintiff states that it has complained to the city about the interference, but that nothing has been done.

TOOK AERONAUT'S PLACE.

Boy 15 Years Old, Possessed of Much Nerve, Saved 5,000 People from Being Disappointed.

John Craven, 15 years old, gave an astonishing exhibition of nerve yesterday afternoon, and will, as a result, be the envy of his companions. He made a balloon ascension of 1,000 feet and then dropped to the earth in a parachute unharmed.

Young Craven is a son of Daniel Craven, a Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad engineer. Last week John ran away from his home, at No. 302 Corry avenue, North Braddock, to join Lawrey Bros.' circus, which is showing at Beaver avenue and Locust street, Allegheny.

It had been extensively advertised by the circus that Daniel McDade would make a balloon ascension and parachute drop yesterday afternoon. When about 5,000 people had gathered to see the performance it was learned that McDade was ill and could not perform. Young Craven volunteered his services, although he had never been in a balloon.

When the 80-foot balloon was released young Craven shot into the air, hanging to the parachute rope. When up 1,000 feet he began his drop, and got along without a mishap until he reached Locust and Gladstone streets, three blocks from where he started. Here his parachute got tangled in the electric wires and he let it go and dropped to the street, 30 feet, uninjured.

SAD ENDING TO A RIDE.

Automobile Accident in Schenley Park Resulted in a Woman's Death.

Mrs. R. B. Ewing, wife of the city clerk of Valparaiso, Ind., died shortly before midnight Monday at the home of Mrs. Samuel Galey, No. 316 North Negley avenue, East End, from concussion of the brain, caused by falling from the automobile of Thomas M. Galey in Schenley park earlier in the evening. Mrs. Ewing was 36 years old and her remains were taken to her home last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewing, their 5-year-old daughter and Mr. Galey and his mother and sister left the Galey home early in the evening to take a ride over the boulevards and Schenley park. While descending the hill at the old log cabin in the park a screw got loose in one of the rear wheels and the machine became unmanagable.

Mr. Galey, who was the chauffeur, cautioned all to remain quiet and the machine would stop. Mrs. Ewing, however, fainted and fell from the automobile, striking her head on the macadamized road. She also pulled Miss Jean Galey with her when she fell, but the girl was not injured. Mrs. Ewing was quickly removed to the Galey home in another automobile, but the physicians who were summoned were unable to give any aid.

NOTHING BUT HARMONY.

Dr. Melvin J. Locke Wins Congressional Instructions at Bellefonte. Everything Is Unanimous.

BELLEFONTE, PA., Aug. 5.—(Special.)—There was nothing but harmony manifested in the Republican county convention today, none of the late factional leaders making any effort to precipitate a fight. In the contest for the congressional instructions Dr. Melvin J. Locke won from Clement Dale, while Alexander E. Patton was unanimously indorsed for the state senate. Both men were empowered to name their own conferees. Mr. Schoonover and James B. Strohm were nominated for the legislature without opposition.

The remainder of the ticket was: For sheriff, Henry Lowery; treasurer, Philip D. Foster; recorder, H. T. Hewitt; register, E. C. Tuten; county commissioners, Abraham Y. Keller and John G. Bailey; auditors, Archibald Allison and Harry B. Poultice; coroner, Dr. S. M. Hough.

Col. Wilbur F. Reeder was re-elected county chairman without contest. The resolutions indorsed the national administration and pledged hearty support to both the state and local tickets.

QUIET AT POSTOFFICE.

Discharge of the Leader Seems to Have Adjusted Matters.

The special delivery boys of the Pittsburgh postoffice, after they read in The Gazette yesterday morning that their leader in the strike of Monday, young Carnegie, had been discharged by Postmaster Holliday, sent a committee to the postmaster to ask if such a statement was true. They were informed that Carnegie was no longer in the service and beyond that the postmaster refused to talk on the subject. The delegation retired, and the postmaster heard nothing further on the matter.

The messengers were all at work yesterday, but other boys waited around the building in hope that they could obtain positions if any of the present employes decided to throw up their jobs. One of the officers connected with the legal department of the city government said:

"Postmaster Holliday treated these boys with the utmost consideration, and probably exceeded his authority under a strict construction of the law, in retaining them after they made a strike against the government. It is the law that when an employe makes a move of this kind against the government, he loses his position. In retaining these boys, who have interfered with the government, work for which they were employed, and which they took an oath to faithfully execute, he is, in the kindness of his heart to the little fellows, doing something for which he may be called to account by the department. This is not probable, if the matter rests as at present; but if the boys attempt to make any more trouble, there is but one course for the postmaster to follow, and that is to discharge all and employ an entirely new force. This the postmaster has decided to do."

NATIONAL HYMN FOR KOREA.

It Is the Work of a German Who Is Teaching Music in the Orient.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 5.—Minister Allen at Seoul has sent to the state department a copy of the Korean national hymn, composed by Frank Eckert, a German, who is employed by the Korean government as instructor of music. After 13 months of practice he has taught the Korean national band to perform most creditably.

Mr. Eckert lived for many years in Japan, where he instructed the Japanese in foreign music, under contract with that government. He composed the national hymn of Japan now in use. The Korean band also has learned the national hymns of countries represented in Korea.

CASTRO READY FOR A VICTORY OR FOR DEFEAT

Once More Quits His Capital to Meet the Revolutionists.

DELAY GIVES HIM CHANCE

If He Loses He Is Prepared to Flee to His Birthplace in the West and There Make a Stand—Insurgents Besiege Barcelona.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Caracas, Venezuela, Aug. 5.—President Castro has left here for the mountainous district of Guarico, where the advance guard of revolutionists under Gen. Mendoza appeared some days ago.

Four million cartridges and 10,000 Mauser rifles were received by President Castro last Saturday. Half of these were deposited in Caracas and the other half was sent to Maracaibo on a schooner. This distribution of munitions of war is taken to be proof that if Castro's forces are beaten in the expected engagement with the revolutionists, and if the president can escape, he intends to prolong resistance and purposes to transport the headquarters of the government to San Cristobal, in the extreme western part of Venezuela, where he was born.

Castro will proceed to Charayave and Cua, little places about a day and a half from the capital. He had with him 3,100 men and expected to meet en route 3,500 more men brought back from La Victoria and Valencia. The revolutionists under Gen. Liuffino Mendoza are at San Casimoro and those under Gen. Matos are at Orituco. Their junction is expected momentarily.

In consequence of the inexplicable delay of the revolutionists in advancing, President Castro has had time to organize new armies, and today he is nearly as strong in numbers as are the revolutionists. He expects reinforcements of 3,000 men from the Andes and Trujillo states, commanded by Gen. Baptista.

PORT OF SPAIN, TRINIDAD, Aug. 5.—News has reached here from Venezuela that Barcelona, in the state of Bermudez, is at present being surrounded by revolutionists estimated to number 800 men, under the command of Gen. Platero. They demand the surrender of Barcelona. The government soldiers in the town number only 200 men, and it is not believed that they will offer resistance.

SCHOONER ADRIFT.

Picked Up by Steamer from Naples. Has 64 Passengers—Captain Lost Overboard.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The Italian steamer Sardegna, from Genoa and Naples, arrived this morning with a small two-masted schooner in tow. The Sardegna fell in with the schooner drifting helplessly with her decks crowded with people. She was found to be the American schooner Notice of Providence, R. I., from Brava, Cape Verde Islands, with 64 persons on board. The mate said Capt. Antonio Remos had been lost overboard and was thought to have committed suicide. The vessel was disabled and short of provisions.

The steamer sent a boat load of provisions, took the schooner in tow and brought her to this port.

The Notice sailed from Brava on June 27. She had no cargo and her hold had been fitted up to accommodate the people. On July 21 a squall struck the little schooner and disabled her. She drifted with the gulf stream until picked up. The captain's disappearance is a mystery.

FRIARS MAY NOT ALL GO.

Head of the Dominicans Says They Will Be Difficult to Eliminate.

ROME, Aug. 5.—Cardinal Rampolla, the papal secretary of state, gave a farewell audience today to Father Santiago Paya, provincial of the Dominicans in the Philippine islands, who will leave on the 7th inst. for Manila. Father Paya will go by way of Spain and the United States and expects to arrive at Manila by the end of September.

Cardinal Rampolla, in his conversation with Father Paya, limited himself to the statement that religious questions in the archipelago would be settled satisfactorily to all concerned. Father Paya, in private conversation, expressed doubt as to the entire elimination of the Spanish friars of the four orders under discussion, although their total number in the Philippines has been reduced to 300.

Society

MANY of the people who went away earlier in the summer are returning to Pittsburgh to spend the latter part of August in their own homes. Though many of the houses in the East End still present a deserted appearance, others show signs of commotion within, indicating the home coming of the owners. Still others have been kept open throughout the season for the short visits of members of the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Spencer of Amberson avenue, Shadyside, who have been away since July 1, are expected home on Friday of this week. With their children they have been staying in the picturesque Catskills mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Macbeth and their son, George Macbeth, Jr., are in New York, where they will be joined by Miss Anna V. Macbeth and Miss Helen W. Macbeth, who have been visiting friends in the White mountains. The Macbeths will return to Pittsburgh this week.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Burgwin are at their country home, within 12 miles of the Highland Inn, Somerset, Pa. Their daughter, Miss Mary Burgwin is with them. Miss Burgwin will be one of the debutantes next winter. She bears a striking resemblance to her mother for whom she is named.

Mrs. David Aiken, Jr., and her daughters, the Misses Aiken, are spending the summer at Atlantic City.

Miss Sara Lindsay, formerly of Ridge avenue, Allegheny, but now living in the East End, has gone to the Highland Inn, Somerset, Pa., with her aunt, Miss Lighthill. They will spend the month of August there.

Nearly every day some people are leaving Sewickley for their summer vacations and although a few have returned August is the popular month in the valley for trips. Those who are leaving this week are Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Gilmore and son, David Gilmore of Thorn street, who will spent part of the month at Atlantic City and later go to Petersburg, Va. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel G. Cooper of Beaver street left Sunday night for Atlantic City. Mrs. Howard L. H. Blair and daughter, Elizabeth Blair of Bank street are spending some time at Chautauqua, N. Y. Miss Cora Thompson and Miss Bessie Cunningham have joined them there.

The Jewish millionaires have earned their fortunes in a variety of ways, from banking to pork packing, from realty to drygoods, from distillery to cotton.

Those who are found in Pennsylvania are: E. Guckenheimer, distiller; Mrs. J. M. Gusky and Morris Kaufmann, clothing, of Pittsburgh; and Leopold Bamberger, capitalist; Charles Gimbel, drygoods; Ellis A. Gimbel, merchant; Simon Kirschbaum, merchant, and Nathan Shellenburg, manufacturer, of Philadelphia.

More Children Sent Out.

The Sewickley Fresh Air Home at Fair Oaks, is proving an ideal place for the entertainment and improvement of the many children who are taken there from the city districts. The large grounds surrounding the home, with the multitude of wild flowers, make a fine place for the children's play, and the Big Sewickley creek along which the home is situated, affords an attraction and amusement of which they never tire.

Each Sunday special services are held for the children. Among those who have addressed them on different days are the Rev. Dr. William Johnston of the Leetsdale Presbyterian church, the Rev. Dr. Robert A. Benton of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, Sewickley; M. F. C. Osborne, James W. Arrott and George W. Anderson. There is always good music at the services. Those who have assisted are Miss Elizabeth Knapp, Miss Elizabeth Fleming, Miss Moore, Mrs. John M. Tate, Jr., and Miss Lucy Christy. The managers of the home will hold their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Alexander Laughlin on Thursday of this week. Today another lot of 60 children will be taken from Pittsburgh to the home, for two weeks.

PIMPLY, BLOTCHED SKIN IS A TERRIBLE AFFLICTION—ZEMA-CURA WILL CURE YOU.

Everybody instinctively turns his head away from a person with a pimply, rough, disfigured skin, and such an affliction is a source of constant shame and torture to the sufferer. If your face has red pimples, blackheads, eruptions, or if your nose or lips or cheeks are red, or if the skin or any part of the limbs or body is irritated or itching, or warm and cold by spells, or dry and harsh, do not delay proper treatment. Delay means pain and annoyance and often even more serious skin disease. The loathsome pimples or tiny eruptions may develop into something very serious or even fatal—or, at best, these pimples may disappear and leave in their stead scars that will last a lifetime. ZEMA-CURA will bring you prompt relief and permanent cure, and will give you new skin as clear, bright, clean and attractive as any skin you ever saw. There is no guesswork about this. Zema-Cura has cured thousands of cases where everything else has failed.

"Dr. Harris:—I have tried many so-called cures for Eczema, and desire to state voluntarily that your Zema-Cura is all that you claim for it. I have been troubled for several years with Eczema on my face and scalp, and by constant use of your Zema-Cura for five weeks the eruption has entirely disappeared, and has left both my face and scalp in a healthy condition, and can cheerfully testify as to its merits. It is certainly a Godsend."—A. J. CARAWAY, Sherwood, Texas.

ZEMA-CURA is a liquid, applied externally. It has none of the disagreeable features of a salve or ointment. It is the only CURE of skin diseases yet discovered. Zema-Cura will positively cure Eczema, Acne, Heat, Herpes, Lupus, Erysipelas, Uricaria (Nettle Rash), Barber's Itch, Mosquito Bites, Blackheads, Pimples and Blotches on the face, Hives, Burns, Cuts, or any itching condition of the skin or scalp. All druggists sell it. 50 cents and $1.00.

Remember! ZEMA-CURA is not one of the many "patent medicines" of the day. It is a doctor's prescription—a scientific compound that has been used for years by its discoverer, Dr. Harris, in daily practice. It has restored thousands of sufferers from torturing skin diseases to perfect health. If you will write to-day Dr. Harris will advise you fully and carefully regarding your case, and charge you absolutely nothing.

Address: Dr. M. M. HARRIS, The Zema-Cura Co., No. 3 West 22nd Street, New York City.

During the treatment of all skin diseases with ZEMA-CURA, externally, U-AH-MA, Dr. Harris' Blood Purifier, taken internally, will be found of great benefit. By acting on the excretory glands U-AH-MA eliminates the poison virus, and hastens and completes the cure. $1.00. Druggists, or express prepaid.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 5.—For the third consecutive time the champions defeated McGraw's Baltimoreized gang today at the Polo grounds in a game that sparkled in brilliant plays by both teams, Pittsburgh having a shade the better of it in the feature line.

Mixed in with the brilliant playing there was some kicking, Leach being the chief offender in this respect, and was finally put out of the game, Burke going to third in his place.

It was a pitchers' battle to a certain extent, Tannehill outpitching Matthewson, who struck out 11 men to Tannehill's six.

Tannehill, however, had the New Yorks at his mercy, while the same cannot be said of Matthewson's work against Clarke's men.

The first to face Tannehill went out in order and only 29 faced him during the entire game.

Bresnahan and McGraw got the only hits for New York—one coming in the seventh and the other in the ninth inning. McGraw was the only one of the home team that got as far as third base.

Wagner's Star Play.

In the second inning Bredle hit near the foul line what looked like a safe one. Wagner started after it, when within a few feet made a dive, grabbed the sphere, rolled over, turning a complete somersault, but held on to the ball.

Clarke and Burke also made good catches and Lauder made a sensational stop and throw.

Manager Clarke was anxious to play off the New York-Pittsburgh tie game today and make this afternoon's contest a double header. McGraw declined with thanks owing to the present condition of his team. The game will be played later in the season.

The Pirates started the scoring in the second inning by making two runs. Wagner reached third on Lauder's wild throw and scored on a wild pitch. Bransfield hit for two bases and moved up on Ritchey's sacrifice and scored on Conroy's ripping double.

In the sixth inning Wagner negotiated the circuit again. Hans put the ball just right and sent it along the left field foul line and took two bases.

He moved up on Bransfield's out at first and scored the third and last run of the game on Ritchey's single. Score:

Brooklyn Pitcher Nabbed Off First in the Ninth and Reds Took the Honors.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Aug. 5.—The Cincinnati and Brooklyn teams played a close game today and the final score was 5 to 4 in favor of Cincinnati.

There was free batting on both sides in the fifth inning when each scored two runs. Kitson spoiled the prospects of a tally for Brooklyn in the latter half of the ninth by being caught napping off first with the best batters of the team behind him. Score:

NAPIER TIED SUECHTING.

Pittsburgher Had the Best of the Game Until Noon, but Was Compelled to Draw It.

HANOVER, Aug. 5.—The master chess players met this morning to contest for the 13th regular round, facing each other as follows:

Atkin vs. Bardeleben, Gunsberg vs. Janowski, Wolf vs. Pillsbury, Marshall vs. Tschigorin, Olland vs. Gotschall, Moses vs. Cohn, Popiel vs. Levitz, Swiderski vs. Mason and Suechting vs. Napier.

At the first adjournment Janowski had again taken the lead by disposing of Gunsberg in fine style, while Moses had made short work of the Berliner, Cohn. The Russian student, Levin, had gone down before the Bohemian, Popiel, while yesterday's conqueror of Janowski, Mason, could do no more than draw with Swiderski, the Leipsiger.

Wolf played a fine game against Pillsbury, who, up to the time of adjournment, had not gained much ground. Marshall set the pace for Tschigorin, but the latter held his own.

The American, Napier, seemed to have a slightly better game against Suechting. These three games, with the other two unfinished contests, were resumed this afternoon.

When play was given over for the day Atkins, Tschigorin and Olland had won their games; Suechting and Napier had drawn and the Pillsbury-Wolf game was unfinished, the former having a winning advantage.

M'FARLAND AND FREEMAN.

They Are Matched to Ride a 20-Mile Motor Paced Race Next Monday Night.

Announcement was made yesterday that a match has been arranged between Floyd McFarland of San Jose, Cal., and Howard Freeman of Portland, Ore., for a race at the Colosseum track next Monday night. The race will be a motor-paced event for 20 miles, and will be the feature of the program.

Freeman and McFarland are the best-known professional riders from the far west, and are well known to all the followers of cycle racing, having occupied positions in the front rank among the racers. Freeman has at different times this season held the record for distances from 5 miles up to 20 miles, and is regarded as one of the finest pace-followers now in the game.

The other events for the Monday night meet will be a one-mile amateur handicap and a half-mile novice. The entries will close Saturday evening at 6 o'clock.

ST. VRAIN STILL BARRED.

Manager Powell Is Obstinate and Refused Outlawed Players Admission.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 5.—Monday's farce was repeated today at the Athletic park, and there was no game between New Orleans and Memphis.

Although it was generally anticipated that Manager Powell would not recede from his position, Manager Frank again took his team out to the ball park, but admission was refused to St. Vrain, Evans and Babb.

Umpire Chabot, whom Powell had selected yesterday, declared the game forfeited to New Orleans.

TALENT GIVEN A GREAT UPSET AT SARATOGA

Par Excellent, a Selling Plater, Captured the Alabama Stakes.

FAVORITE BADLY BEATEN

William C. Whitney's Gunfire Looked On as a Sure Winner—Lux Castro, Another Outsider, Gave the Victor a Pretty Race.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Saratoga, Aug. 5.—Par Excellence, quoted at 40 to 1, a selling plater of only ordinary class, won the classic Alabama stakes for 3-year-old fillies, in a hard drive, by a neck from the 30 to 1 shot, Lux Casta. The result was one of the greatest upsets of the present racing year.

William C. Whitney's Gunfire was an odds-on favorite, but she, together with Hatasoo, was raced into the ground before the head of the stretch was reached and both were badly beaten at the end. Josepha finishing third. The start of the race caused a lot of crowding, Par Excellence and Femesole coming together, the latter being thrown out of her stride.

The California-owned and bred 2-year-old Alsono, gave a great exhibition of speed and stamina in the opening dash, making up a gap of 20 lengths and winning by a neck from Boutonniere. The track was fast, Zoroaster running a mile in 1:39 3-5, establishing a new record for the course. The attendance numbered over 4,000. Three favorites won. Summaries.

EDGEWOOD VS. HERMITAGE

Ligonier Six Lost, but Made a Very Creditable Showing.

The Edgewood Golf club defeated the Hermitage Golf club of Ligonier, on the Country club course, Beechwood boulevard, yesterday afternoon by a score of 18 to 7.

The showing of the visitors on the strange course was a most creditable one in view of the victory of Edgewood on the Hermitage course recently, by a score of 15 to 4. F. X. Barr led the home players, with a score of 9 up, on L. Schmertz, while W. G. Carr did almost all the rest of the scoring with 8 holes up on Dr. Barkley. T. H. Ashcom, who is but 14 years old, was 5 up on 17-year-old John Flenniken of the home team. J. O'Hara Denny played the best golf for the visitors, with a medal score of 88, though he lost to George Wurzell, who had the best medal score of the day, with 84. As one of the Ligonier men missed the train, the match was played with five on each side, as follows:

Edgewood—18		Ligonier—7
G. W. Wurzell	1	J. H. Denny	0
F. X. Barr	9	L. Schmertz	0
John Flenniken	0	T. L. Ashcom	5
W. G. Carr	8	Dr. T. H. Barkley	0
W. H. Buf'ton	0	W. A. Peterson	2

The Hermitage club, which has a beautiful nine-hole course on the Denny estate at Ligonier, has a very busy summer season on hand, and will play match games at New Castle, August 12; at Oil City, August 13, and at Titusville, August 14. Several of the members of the team will also compete in the open golf tournament at Altoona, August 18.

The Hermitage club will hold an open tournament August 27 and 28, offering six trophy cups, one for the lowest qualifying at 18 holes of medal play; two for the finals in each of two eights, and one for an 18-hole handicap.

A fast best ball record of 69 strokes was made on the Allegheny Country club course in a best ball foursome, between A. G. Lockwood of Boston, and O. D. Thompson and T. K. Laughlin and B. S. Horne. The old record was 73.

BULLS AND BEARS TO PLAY

Two Pittsburgh Stock Exchange Baseball Teams Will Struggle at Exposition Park.

Two baseball teams, known as the Bulls and Bears of the Pittsburgh stock exchange, have secured Exposition park for a game this afternoon. The contest will be called at 4 o'clock and there promises to be some of the most farcical baseball ever witnessed on a local diamond.

The game will be played according to rules of the broker's code. Spalding's guide will be left out of the question and the brokers made faithful promises yesterday that there would be no reference to Hoyle during the entire contest.

There will be plenty of kicking in the game. This is a certainty. The brokers have been making preparations for the battle for the past week and every decision of the umpire, it was stated yesterday, would surely be questioned.

The teams will line up as follows:

Bulls—Catcher, "Weary" Walker; pitcher, "Fatty" Robinson; first base, "Goat" Davis; second base, "A. P. A." Patrick; third base, "Shorty" Morrow; shortstop, "Dutch" Harkins; left field, "Deacon" Doty; center field, "Mud" Ullery; right field and captain, "Pud" Barbour; change pitcher, "Statesman" Wainright; change shortstop, "Goat" Jenkins; change second base, "Broadax" Boleky.

Reinforcement—"Job" Boyle, "Scraps" Hoag, "Rubber Legs" Marlin, "Dutchy" Schmidt, "Chesty" McCutcheon, "Baldy" Campbell.

Ambulance corps—"Moses" Long, "Arsie" Hall, "Mike" Fink, "Uncle" Bailey, "Specs" McKelvy, "Murphy" Patterson, "Deiderichs" McFarlane.

Surgeon—"Whiskers" Harvey.

Bears—Catcher, "Irish" Felton; pitcher, "Abe Lincoln" Askin; shortstop, "Alphonse" Willis; first base, "Pork" Hisey; second base, "Dutch" Kuhn; third base, "Scrapper" Lytle; right field, "Jakey" Holman; center field and captain, "Harvey" Miller; left field, "Gaston" Mahan.

Extra—"Flax" Wilson, "Curley" Armstrong, "Papa" Way, "Rain-in-Face" Askin, "Spider" Hare, "Deacon" Stevenson, "Peoples Choice" Crawford, "Bully" Watt, "Whiskers" Lawrence, "Chapple" Bayley.

Surgeon—Dr. S. Fritz.

Umpires—"Fatty" Mustin, "Cinders" Carothers.

M'DONALD, PA., Aug. 5.—(Special.)—The Wheeling team defeated the McDonald boys in a close game here this afternoon. Ten innings were necessary to decide the contest, and not until the last man was out at first was the game clinched. Both pitchers were effective. Score:

ED GEERS DROVE DIRECT HAL TO FINE VICTORY

Famous Pacer Took the 2:24 Event at Buffalo With Comparative Ease.

ROMAN ALSO A WINNER

The 2:18 Trotting Event Went to the Campaigner in Three Straight Heats—Collision in First Heat of Initial Race.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Buffalo, Aug. 5.—The second day of the Grand Circuit was rather tame. Direct Hal and The Roman repeated their wins of earlier in the season, both getting their races easily.

The only excitement came in the first heat of the 2:24 pace, when there was a collision on the first turn, the drivers of King Charles and Grasshopper being unseated. Grasshopper made the circuit of the track without a driver, but King Charles was stopped. Cooper, who drove the former, was not hurt, but Maloney, the owner of King Charles, got a black eye and a badly skinned cheek.

The judges ruled that as the collision seemed unavoidable, all horses would start in the other heats. Maloney got up behind King Charles and in the third heat made a plucky drive, getting second place and third money in the race.

Direct Hal had the pole and was always in front in the 2:24 pace, Geers not being compelled to reduce his horse's record to win. The Roman drew sixth position in the 2:18 trot, but went through the horses and won easily. Both were heavy favorites, Direct Hal at $30 against $15 for the field and The Roman at $50 against $10.

The 2:30 pace was also decided in straight heats, being a procession in each instance. Gold Brick was held at $50 to $11 in the pooling.

METEOR III. LOST KING'S CUP RACE TO THE BRYNHILD

Emperor William's American Built Craft Too Heavily Handicapped.

KING SAW THE START

Edward VII. Watched the Boats With Keen Interest—German Ruler's Yacht Led on Recrossing the Line on the Westward Leg.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Cowes, Aug. 5.—The Brynhild won the race for the king's cup. The Meteor III. finished second and the Glory finished third. The Brynhild finished at 5:54, the Meteor at 6:13 and the Glory at 6:16:58. The Leander finished fourth and the Florinda fifth.

The second day of the royal yacht squadron's regatta was favored with beautiful weather; the sky was clear, but the wind was rather light.

King Edward watched the start of the yachts in the race for the king's cup with keen interest and at 1 o'clock the Victoria and Albert steamed slowly to the direction of Ryde to meet the returning racers.

There were 12 starters in the race, with the German Emperor's Meteor III. at the scratch and smaller craft being allowed various times ranging from 13 minutes and 20 seconds to Sir James Pender's Brynhild up to an hour and a half to the little yawl Bozel, owned by Lancelot Rolleston.

Rupert Guinness' yawl Leander, which won last year's race, was given 31 minutes allowance. The start, at 10 o'clock, was a good one, the contestants crossing the line well bunched. The Brynhild led slightly and the Meteor was in third position.

The Meteor secured the lead at the eastern end of the course and was a long distance ahead when she recrossed the line at 1:40 and started on the westward leg. She needed all her speed, however, to overcome her severe handicap.

During the afternoon the Victoria and Albert steamed around the isle of Wight and re-entered the Solent in time to arrive astern of the Brynhild when she received the winning gun.

STANDARD OIL DIVIDEND CUT IS A SURPRISE

But the Company Follows No Established Rule in That Matter.

PAYMENTS IN TWO YEARS

Outcome of the Struggle for Colorado Fuel and Iron Will Not Be Known Until the Annual Meeting — The Electric Understanding.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 5.—In view of the optimistic statements recently made by a representative of the company, the action of the Standard Oil directors in declaring a dividend of $5 a share on the $100,000,000 capital stock at their meeting today caused general surprise. The dividend is for the third quarter of the current year and compares with a dividend of $8 a share declared in the corresponding quarter of 1901.

Taking into consideration today's dividend the Standard Oil Company will have disbursed in the first three quarters of 1902 $35 a share, or $35,000,000. This statement compares with $40,000,000 paid out in dividends in the corresponding period of last year. Dividends in the first three quarters of 1901 were respectively $20 a share for the first quarter, $12 a share for the second quarter, and $8 a share for the third quarter. In the first quarter of the current year $20 a share was disbursed; in the second quarter $10 a share, and in the third quarter $5 a share.

It would seem from the comparatively small dividend declared by the directors at their meeting today that the dividends on Standard Oil stock will be smaller this year than in 1900 or 1901, when $48,000,000 each year was disbursed. However, the Standard Oil Company follows no established rule in the matter of its quarterly disbursements, and there is a possibility that the next dividend will bring the disbursements for 1902 up to the amount paid in each of the two preceding years.

Colorado Still Anybody's Fight.

Both factions fighting for control of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company say no additional light has been thrown on the question as to whether the Gates or the Osgood faction will dominate the annual meeting, which will be held in Denver on the 20th of this month. However, it is generally known that neither faction of the company is in a position to say that it now possesses by proxy and individual holdings a majority of the stock. It is believed that not until after the meeting, which is expected to be a warm one, will the question be finally decided.

There is considerable speculation as to the amount of bonds that has been converted into common stock of the Colorado Fuel and Iron. Several months ago Chairman Osgood willingly gave out the figures bearing on the subject, which at the time amounted to about $1,000,000. When a representative of the company was asked today for the amount of bonds that had been issued in exchange for stock he replied that he did not care to say.

The general belief is that notwithstanding the fact that the stock is selling more than 11 points under the bonds, the bonds will take a prominent part in deciding the contest. It is safe to say that in the event of the continuance of the present management of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company in office it will be some time before dividends will be resumed on the stock. A steel manufacturer said today that it would be at least two years before the Colorado company could expect to receive sufficient benefits from its improvements and additions to warrant the resumption of dividends on the stock.

Eastern Illinois Absorption.

A director of the St. Louis & San Francisco, who represents the controlling interests in that property, admits that that company has acquired the Chicago & Eastern Illinois, but emphatically denies the many other reports which have been circulated in connection with the negotiations between these two properties.

Tennessee Company Meeting.

What was reported to be an important meeting of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company was held in this city last week. While it was officially admitted that such a meeting was held, no information as to what occurred could be obtained. It was said, however, that the meeting was not called to consider the resumption of dividends on the common stock.

Electric Understanding.

It is again reported that the General Electric Company and the Westinghouse Electric Manufacturing Company have reached an agreement to divide competitive business. The report is denied by New York interests in both companies but it is admitted that the two companies are friendly to each other and strive to protect their mutual interests, which are many. The fact that both companies use the same patents, makes it to their advantage to work in close harmony.

Tin Plate Wage Question.

The opinion prevailed in iron and steel circles here to day that some agreement satisfactory to the United States Steel Corporation would be reached with the tin workers in the matter of a reduction in wages. In order that the American Tin-Plate Company may accept an order for 1,500,000 boxes of tin-plate from the Standard Oil Company. The president of a tin-plate company said that in the event of the tin workers accepting, the 1,500,000 additional boxes would enable the mills to operate steadily. Should they refuse, a number of the mills will be forced to shut down, as this is the dull season of the year and orders are scarce. The corn, peach and tomato crops will soon serve to stimulate business, so far as the tin-plate industry is concerned. E. W. HARDEN.

The Treasury and the Banks.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(Special.)—In redemption of checks drawn by depositors of gold at the Sentinel assay office, today's official records show that the sub-treasury paid out yesterday $20,352. Total thus paid since Friday, $21,639, against $255,365 for the same period a week ago. Total payment by government to New York banks for the day, $2,-535,000. Payment by banks to government, $2,956,000. Balance on the day's transactions, $402,000, paid by banks to government. Total net payment by banks to government since Friday, $781,000, against $8,149,000 similarly paid for the corresponding period a week ago.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Utah mines paid $240,000 in dividends last month. The Daly-West distributed $108,000 of this amount; the Silver King, $150,000; the Con. Mercur, $30,000; and the Utah of Fish Springs, $2,000.

Good strikes are reported on the Advocate and Bald mountains in the Gold mountain district.

The Strawberry in Skelly Gulch, Mont., is mining some fine ore. Hand sampling of 23 tons shipped to the Helena smelter showed $300 gold to the ton. Two tons recently milled returned over $500 a ton.

Investigation of the strike in the Kelly tunnel at Georgetown, Col., shows the ore, which at first appeared a medium grade of concentrating material is full of free gold in massive and wire form, associated with cube lead and black zinc. Assays run from $5,000 to $30,000 a ton.

Kokomo (Col.) reports that the strike on the Little Nest in Mayflower gulch is looking out well. Assays go up to $1,800 gold a ton.

Big strikes are reported in the Minnesota, near Kingman, Ariz.

Recent assays of a small "pipe" six inches wide in the Nest in Mayflower gulch, near Parrot, Col., showed values of $1,500 to the ton. The strike is regarded as the richest made in the country for a decade.

A gold discovery is reported a few miles north of Independence, Wyo., where ledge has been traced for 12 miles and is said to be 20 feet wide. Assays of rock taken miles apart return about $6 a ton. The ore is free-milling.

The Metal Market.

Metal markets today were as a rule steadier in ton in the local field, but, with the exception of tin, price changes were few. A good business was reported and values gained ½c, with spot closing at $28.75 bid. The business commercial included 200 tons five-ton lots for August delivery and five tons spot, all at $28.75, which was bid at the close, but there were no offerings. The English market suffered from slack demand and prices eased off 10s, spot closing at £127 5s and futures at £125 7s 6d. The local market for copper ruled quiet, but steady, and contained no special features, prices remaining practically as last quoted. Standard, spot to November, closed at $11 25@11 60. Lake, $11 75@11 85; electrolytic, $11 75@11 85, and casting, $11 00@11 80. London was easier, lower values from both spot and futures prices. The former closed at £52 15s 0d and futures at £52 17s 6d. There was nothing particularly interesting in lead. Spot was unchanged here at $4 12½ and 2s 3d higher at London, at £13 17s 6d. Speller ruled steady in both markets, here at $5 37½ and abroad at £18 15s. At New York iron ruled steady. No. 1 foundry, northern, was quoted at $23 00@23 50; No. 2 foundry, northern, $22 00@23 00; No. 1 foundry, southern, $22 00@23 00; No. 2 foundry, southern soft, $22 00@23 00. Warrants were still entirely nominal. Glasgow closed at 56s 3d and Middlesboro at 50s 10½d.

Dullness Continues in Wall Street

FEW DIVERSIONS TO RAISE MARKET FROM DEAD LEVEL

Rise Occurs in Vanderbilts Early, but Reaction Comes After Board Meeting.

AMALGAMATED IS STRONG

Refusal to Vacate Injunction Against Heinze Helps Stock—Sterling at Paris Advances—London Becomes Seller—Firm Tone in Bonds.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 5.—There were only a few diversions in today's stock market to relieve what was otherwise a dead level of dullness and monotony. Dealings during the first hour were somewhat more active than yesterday and the moderate upward movement became quite general. Only a few stocks moved more than a point, and the interest promptly died away. The execution of orders in a few high-grade investment stocks, of which the small floating supply is closely held, caused some striking advances. The rise in the Vanderbilts, led by New York Central, was apparently based on an expectation that today's meeting of directors of the Manhattan Elevated railroad would lead to some action in regard to the rumored plan to lease Manhattan. The adjournment without any announcement led to reaction in the stocks thus affected.

Express Stock Advances.

American Express and United States Express rose easily on the accumulation of some small amounts of stocks. Missouri Pacific resisted some pronounced selling pressure and moved irregularly all day. The refusal of a Montana court to vacate an injunction granted to the Amalgamated Copper Company against the working of a contested mine by a rival gave a firm tone to Amalgamated, but the dealings in the stock were small. Rumors of a combination between St. Louis & San Francisco and Central of Georgia railway were responsible for the advance in the former and for the buying of the income bonds of the latter. Denials of the report from well-informed quarters took the animation out of the movement.

Money was in active demand in London presumably in preparation for the 20 per cent instalment of subscribers in the $160,000,000 consol issue, which is payable on Thursday.

Dealings Over Sea.

Sterling at Paris advanced a centime further today. London sold some stocks here today. This selling is supposed to represent the retransfer to New York of securities sent to London in June to be held there for American owners, who were taking advantage of cheaper interest rates. The liquidation of an account in Metropolitan securities, the reduction of the dividend rate on Standard Oil, a report that the dissolution of the Reading voting trust would be deferred by not declaring the full dividend on the first preferred stock, and rate cutting on packing house products from Kansas City were minor features in the dullness and heaviness which overcame the market.

There was a firm tone in the bond market, but no feature. Total sales par value $1,875,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

WALL STREET FEATURES.

Total sales for the day 299,800 shares.

St. Louis & San Francisco makes a good gain on rumored absorption of Central of Georgia, despite denial of the rumor.

London sells some stocks, supposed to be merely a re-transfer.

United States Steel makes a slight gain on common and loss on preferred.

Amalgamated Copper holds firm on the Montana decision.

Vanderbilt stocks make a gain at the opening, but lose on the reaction.

Bond market has a firm tone.

Talked About in Wall Street

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The Herald this (Wednesday) morning says: The stock market of yesterday was little more than a repetition or a continuation of the preceding day's session. Dealings contracted still further, but prices hardened a trifle, and as the saying is, "there were more plus than minus signs" at the close of the day. The dealings, however, were purely professional, and little if any significance attached to the net changes. Of news having any bearing upon values there was practically none, and little attention was paid to the "deal" rumors.

As a matter of fact, the later "deal" reports are of a character sufficiently vague to put Wall street credulity to a severe test.

The professional element made one or two efforts to revive activity by stimulating movements, and turned their attention again to New York Central and the local traction shares. The efforts met with no public response, though New York Central held most of the advance that crowned the manipulators' efforts. Brooklyn Rapid Transit was held under repression by an unfavorable report, which showed a net decrease in earnings for the fiscal year of $293,073. The full report of this company is awaited with interest. How much of the increase in fixed charges will reflect in the annual statement is not known, but it is inferred that the company will show a deficit.

The London market resumed operations after a two-days' holiday by sending a generally higher range of quotations for American stocks. Foreigners were reported as sellers on balances, but the transactions were exceedingly limited and void of influence. The cable advices reported the London market as heavy for its own securities. Consols declined one-quarter point and all the well-known South Africans were weak. There were revived rumors of trouble with speculative houses both in London and Paris, which was offered as an explanation of the foreign weakness. The difficulty, however, was believed to be confined entirely to South African shares.

* * *

The money market again attracted some interest. Call loans ruled easy, in the absence of speculative business, from 2¾ to 3 per cent. Time funds were firm at from 4¼ to 5 per cent. Demand sterling was exceedingly dull but well maintained at about 4.8750 to 4.8795. The advance in the sterling rate at Paris was thought to preclude any shipments of gold to Paris this week. Foreign bankers reported a hardening of call money rates in London and some other European centers, but the tendency was thought to reflect merely an active holiday demand for funds and to be without other significance.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Coffee futures opened quiet, with prices 10 to 15 points lower. The day proved one of active fluctuations, generally toward lower levels. The news was disappointing, primary receipts were well up to the heavy totals of a year ago and an increase of 325,676 bags in the world's visible supply for August 1 over the previous month tended to dampen the ardor of room bulls. The "clique" operated extensively on both sides of the market. Near the close the bulls were active buyers of September, this option and August showing the smallest net loss for the day. The market was finally barely steady, August and September 5 points lower and other months 10 to 20 points net lower. Sales amounted to 84,750 bags, including August, 5,000@5.05c; September, 5.55@5.70c; October, 5.30@5.35c; November, 5.30@5.40c; December, 5.35@5.45c; January, 5.45c; February, 5.40c; March, 5.45@5.50c; May, 5.60@5.65c; July, 5.75@5.85c. City Directory Shows Big Increase in Population — Further Improvements in Large Shops.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Aug. 5.—(Special.)—The New Castle directory for 1902, issued today, places the population at 35,831. The government census of 1900 gave this city a population of 20,200.

Three new potteries have been erected within a year, plants have been constructed by the Cuyahoga Steel and Wire Company and the Forge and Bolt works, while enlargements and additions at the Pennsylvania Engineering works and the Shenango Valley steel mill have brought hundreds of wage-earners and their families here.

The Pennsylvania Engineering Company is making further improvements, which will cost over $100,000. About 600 men are now employed there, and this number will be increased to 1,000.

RIVER INTERESTS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Aug. 5.—River 18.7 feet and stationary. Clear and pleasant. The Keystone boat E. A. Woodruff passed down this morning for her annual trip on the lower rivers. The passenger traffic still holds out. The Tacoma, Hugh Gould, M. P. Wells, City of Cincinnati, Lizzie Bay, City of Cincinnati and Virginia, which left here today, had full cabins. The Neille Walton arrived at 6 a. m. with a tow and was away at 9 a. m. with a tow which will be taken above. The R. D. Wood passed at 9 a. m. and John Moren at 11 a. m. Both had empties. The Channel at Nine Mile will be cleared in a few days of the barges which were grounded by the Zaffie last week. Two of the vessels have been raised and it is but a question of a day or so that they will be gotten out of the way. The damage amounted to the cost of raising the coal. A boatman was found at the piers of the suspension bridge. There was nothing on the corpse to identify it. It is supposed to be the remains of an unknown man who jumped off the Wheeling at the foot of Main street last Sunday night about 10 o'clock.

CAIRO—The river marks 23.3 feet tonight, a fall of six-tenths of a foot since last night. Cairo had a storm which broke the heat and tonight is clear and cooler.

MEMPHIS—River 17.4 feet, a fall of six-tenths of a foot in the last 24 hours. The Sunshine arrived early this morning from Cincinnati with 127 tons of merchandise and returned this evening. The City of Idaho departed at 4 p. m. for Fulton. The Boaz from New Orleans with tow of empties passed up at 6 a. m. for the Ohio river. The Woolfolk from the lower Ohio river arrived late last evening with a tow of Treadwater coal for this place and returned early this morning with a tow of empties.

PADUCAH—River 9.2 feet and falling. Showers. The Mary Stewart left at noon for Golconda. The Wilford came out of the Tennessee river with tow. The Bob Dudley leaves today for Nashville. The Dick Fowler had a good trip to Cairo this morning at 8:20. The Clyde arrived from Tennessee river with a good trip. The John S. Hopkins came in from Monterey at 11 a. m. with a tow of coal. Captain Kogar of the St. Louis and Tennessee River Packet Company and the crew of the New City of Savannah came down this morning from the boat which is aground on the shore of Kentucky. It is reported that it will be two months before she is off. The I. O. R. came down today from Kuttawa. William Shank, a ship carpenter of Point Pleasant, W. Va., aged 52, died here today at the St.

Local Stocks Were Somewhat Active and Generally Quite Firm

BIG ADVANCE IN PRICE OF TRUST COMPANY STOCKS

Commonwealth Trust Jumped $18, but Lost $2 Just Before the Close.

RUMORED DEALS ABOUND

Federal National Bank Reacted. Steel Stocks Quiet, but Firm. Coalers Active and Higher—Fire Proofing Advanced.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was somewhat broader and more active than on the preceding day and the tone was generally quite firm—being even strong in spots. The features were again in the banking and coal company stocks, the former being particularly interesting. Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust was the most active, selling 50 shares. The opening was at 240, but about the middle of the last hour the price, which had been steadily advancing, reached $245, a gain of $12 over Monday. Just before the closing gong sounded, however, a broker with an order to sell 50 shares came on the floor. He disposed of 20 of the 50, but had to take $242, leaving the net advance for the day only $10. The seller offered the remaining 30 at $242, but there was no bid. The greatest advance scored was by Pennsylvania Trust, 10 shares of which sold at $245, a gain of $15, and a new high record. Colonial Trust sold 11 shares at $391, a gain of $1, and no more offered under $393. Federal National Bank, which advanced so sharply Monday, reacted $1 to $142 for 10 shares. In the quotations the only material change was an advance of $5 in the price of Pittsburgh Trust Company to $625 bid. There are all kinds of rumors of deals among some of the leading banks and trust companies, and it is admitted that "something is up," but anything like details are emphatically refused. In the general list firmness predominated. The steel issues were rather dull, but Crucible common made a gain of ⅜ at 21½, while the preferred, after selling at 86½, closed unchanged at 86¼. U. S. Steel preferred advanced ⅜ to 90, but the common did not sell, closing firmer and higher, however, at 40 bid. Pittsburgh Coal issues were more active and higher. The common stock advanced to 28, but closed at 27⅞, a gain of ⅛. The preferred closed ⅜ higher at 93½, being in fair demand at that price. River Coal preferred also gained a fraction at 39¾. Fire Proofing issues manifested reviving strength and activity, the common advancing ½ to 32¼ and the preferred ¼ to 89¾. The directors are expected to meet August 11 to act on the common dividend and an increase in the regular rate, or an "extra," is the bull "tip." Brewing common was in fairly good demand and firm at 28⅜, a loss of ⅛. Philadelphia common lost ¼. Window Glass was dull but unchanged. Electrics and Airbrake were also quiet. Bonds were dull but steady.

It is again reported that General Electric and Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing have made an agreement whereby competitive bidding would be avoided, but officials of each company decline to acknowledge that such is the case.

Wall Street Brokers' "Tips."

The strength in Illinois Central and the grangers was a feature of the day.

The heavy trading in and advances in New York Central and Manhattan were on deal talk.

Bur Mexican Central 2d Bull Texas Pacific. It will pay you to take on some Readings, Eries and Canadian Pacific. Another big upward movement in Sugar is coming. Tennessee Coal and Iron and Manhattan are going higher.—Josephs.

The activity and strength in New York Central is accompanied by rumors that a special meeting of the directors is to be called. Taken in connection with the activity in Manhattan in an otherwise dull market, it looks as if negotiations for a lease of the latter property were under way. It is believed Manhattan is going to have a big year.

We consider the dullness in the market a very fortunate thing and conducive of good. The latter part of this month money will begin to go south and west to move crops, which, were we to have a big crop, would cause a money stringency, whereas a bull market after harvest and until foreign money can be drawn upon for exports, will be far more stable and lasting than a temporary move now.—Lounsbery.

Dividends.

The Book Lovers' Library declared a dividend of 5 per cent.

The directors of the Cincinnati, Newport & Covington Light and Traction Company are expected to meet in a few days and declare a quarterly dividend at the rate of 4½ per cent per annum.

The Standard Oil Company declared a quarterly dividend of $5 a share. The last dividend was $10 per share, declared May 6 and paid June 16. Books on the present dividend close August 15 and reopen August 20.

The following mills and River mills declared quarterly dividends at the same rate as a year ago: Hargraves mills, 1½ per cent; Parkers mills, 2 per cent; Stevens Manufacturing Company, 2 per cent; Troy C. & W. Manufacturing, 4 per cent.

Drop Continues in Chicago Grains

SHARP DECLINE COMES QUICKLY TO WHEAT PIT

Almost Perfect Harvesting Weather Is Reported from Spring Sowing Country.

CORN IS ALSO VERY WEAK

Prices Go Lower Despite Light Receipts and Poor Prospects for Improvement — Fair Demand for Oats—Provisions Are Higher.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, Aug. 5.—Grains were heavy today and prices declined sharply. September wheat, depressed by almost perfect harvesting weather in the spring wheat country and by very heavy receipts, dropped to the lowest price so far this season. Corn also ruled very weak on heavy selling, notwithstanding receipts were falling off gradually. At the close of trade September wheat had lost ¾@⅞c, September corn 1¾@1½c, and September oats ⅛@⅜c. Provisions closed 2½ to 12½c higher.

Wheat momentarily showed a good front at the opening of trade. Cables were firm, grading was very poor and there were rains in the western states and in the Ohio valley. September started ½c up to ⅝ down at 70 to 69¾c, and sold at 70¼c. Soon, however, the perfect weather northwest began to have a bearish effect on the crowd. Receipts here and southwest were large and at primary points totaled much above last year.

Free Selling Is Started.

This started free selling and September dropped to the low level for the crop, 66c. Local receipts were 546 cars, eight of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 173 cars, making a total for the three points of 719 cars, against 788 last week and 680 a year ago. Primary receipts were 1,286,000 bushels, against 991,000 bushels last year.

Corn receipts were only 69 cars and estimates for tomorrow but 25 cars. For a moment prices edged above the closing figures of yesterday, but bullish statistics could not overcome the decidedly bearish sentiment of the crowd. Heavy selling of September shortly after the opening caused the slump. Offerings came out abundantly and there was no let-up to the pressure until September had dropped from 57½ to 55¾c. The big interests identified with the free selling of the last several days were in the pit selling. In the absence of anything that resembled support no one wanted the corn.

Strong in Liverpool.

Stop loss orders came out and helped in the decline. Liverpool was strong and as much as ⅝c higher, but exerted no influence. At the bottom there was some buying by commission houses and by shorts who covered. This brought a slight rally, but September closed very weak, 1¾@1¾c down at 55¾c. The weather west, while rainy, was considered favorable to the growth of the crop.

Oats held up well against the depression of the other grains. There was a dip early and again late, influenced by liberal receipts and the corn break, but the weather was against the oats harvest and reduced estimates of arrivals checked any sympathetic declines of moment. The cash demand closed easy ¼@⅜c down at 31⅞@32c. Receipts were 316 cars.

Provisions were quiet but somewhat irregular. Early liquidation depressed products, but good Milwaukee support brought a brace in the market, and everything advanced. September pork closed 12½c up at $16 85, September lard 2½c higher at $10 85, and September ribs 7½c advanced at $10 47½.

Estimated receipts tomorrow: Wheat, 300 cars; corn, 25 cars; oats, 85 cars; hogs, 21,000 head.

REPORTED SALE OF FOURTH AVE. LOT FOR $500,000

Dallmyer Property Is Believed to Have Changed Hands for This Sum.

BIG WOOD STREET SALES

H. C. McEldowney Bid Off the Citizens National Bank Property for $202,000—McKeesport Elks Pay $20,000 for Site—Residence Sales.

The biggest real estate deal reported for months is the sale of the Dallmyer building, on the south side of Fifth avenue, near Wood street. The report comes in the nature of a rumor, and, like other big rumors that have been in circulation lately, could not be verified positively, although it is given general credence. The property is said to have been sold for $500,000 through the Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust Company. The Dallmyer lot is 97x85 feet, and is improved with a four-story brick building. It was purchased about two years ago by E. M. Ferguson for about $350,000. The present rental, it is said, insures a good revenue on the price said to have been paid for it in this deal, which is somewhat over $5,000 a front foot. The building was known for years as the English block, having been erected about 20 years ago.

The present price sets a new value on Fourth avenue lots in this vicinity, as it is nearly $61 a square foot. The building is likely to be replaced by a new one. The highest price paid for inside frontage near by heretofore was $50 a square foot, which the Keystone bank paid for its present site adjoining the Dallmyer block.

Deals in Wood Street.

The properties at Nos. 500 and 511 Wood street have been sold for a consideration approximating $275,000. The deals were made through the agency of Samuel W. Black & Co., and the deeds will be made out to Mr. Black. Further than this it is impossible to learn anything at present, for Mr. Black declined to discuss the sale in any way.

The property at No. 500 was secured from McCord & Co., and the lot at No. 511 from W. B. and C. A. Wolfe. Each lot measures 20x80 feet on the west side of Wood street, near Fifth avenue, and is improved with a three-story brick building.

For several weeks it has been rumored that the First National bank was trying to get control of the property between its building and Virgin alley, but whether it is the real buyer of these two properties is not known. The report that the Carr property at No. 505 had been sold is contradicted by brokers interested, who say that the property cannot be sold at present. Neither has the lot at No. 507 changed hands, as was rumored. On the other side of the two lots sold yesterday is the property of John A. Fitzsimmons, who, it is said, is not in the market to sell at any price.

Bank Lot Brings $202,000.

As was expected, the auction sale of the Citizens' National bank property at the southeast corner of Wood and Diamond streets, yesterday afternoon, was the most interesting realty event that has transpired for months. The auction resulted in the sale of the property to H. C. McEldowney, president of the Union Trust Company, for $202,000.

The sale was conducted by Henry C. Breed and drew a large crowd of brokers and business men to the offices of the Union Trust Company, where it was held. From the first the bidding was spirited, and it was evident that the property would bring a good figure. The opening bid, $60,000, was made by R. J. Wilson, who kept in the procession till the $126,000 mark was reached. Other intermediate bids were made by James J. Leahy, $100,000; R. R. Brown, $115,000; George Eberhart, $125,000; and H. C. McEldowney, $121,000. After the $125,000 figure had been passed the price went up by jumps of $5,000 and $10,000 to $200,000, the only bidders being Messrs. McEldowney and Brown. The latter made his last offer at $200,000 and the property was knocked down to Mr. McEldowney at $202,000.

The bank lot measures 25x77 feet and is improved with a two-story brick building. It is generally conceded that Mr. McEldowney secured the property for H. C. Frick, although he declined to discuss the matter in any way.

In addition to the purchase price it is said to be noted that there was a benefit of $33,000 fixed upon the lot by the Diamond alley viewers, which makes the real cost to the new owner $227,000. This makes the value $9,400 a front foot, or $122.08 a square foot, which is a record-breaking price for this part of Wood street.

Yesterday's purchase gives Mr. Frick, in case he becomes the owner, a lot 120 feet square and extending along Wood street from Nos. 414 to 424, inclusive. The other Wood street properties were bought last year from George W. Darr and the Reformed Presbyterian church. The Darr lot, generally known as the Gillespie property, is 50x120 feet and brought $225,000. The church lot measures 49.5x120 feet, and was bought for $125,000.

In addition to these Mr. Frick secured a plot facing 43 feet in Diamond street, in the rear of the bank lot, to fill out the square. With the skyscraper which Mr. Frick is expected to erect on the lot, it is hard to predict where values will go to in this part of Wood street, especially if the Diamond alley widening move progresses without unnecessary delays.

Elks Buy Site for Hall.

Two more good sales of McKeesport property have been closed since Monday morning, through the agency of brokers in that city. The larger deal was the purchase by the McKeesport Elks of the Mary A. Becker property, in Market street near Fifth avenue, for $20,000. The sale was negotiated by Peter Koch. The lot is 60x140 feet, extending back to Strawberry alley. It is situated between the Second ward school house and Frank Becker's hotel. On the lot are erected a three-story brick house and two frame dwellings, all of which are rented to good advantage. The Elks propose to remodel the brick house for a temporary hall and will, probably next year, erect a handsome building on the site.

The other sale was made through the office of Arthur May. He sold for S. F. Cruthers to J. M. Lyle a property, 45x60 feet, in Fifth avenue, just east of Ewing street, for $16,500. The lot is improved with a two-story frame building.

Houses Are Good Renters.

Through the agency of George Schmidt & Son Margaret B. Neyman sold to A. Frick eight houses in the Thirty-fifth ward for $12,000. The houses are five-room frame dwellings, standing on lots 25x109 feet each. They are situated on the north side of Virginia avenue, between Meridan and Hallock streets, and were bought for an investment.

A. Z. Byers, of the firm of A. Z. Byers & Co., returned yesterday from Crewe, Nottoway county, Va., where he handled one side of the exchange deal referred to in The Gazette last week. By the transaction Frederick Dilemuth conveys to George N. Powell a plantation of 087 acres, improved with good buildings, for two brick houses on the east side of Murray Hill avenue, Twentieth ward. The deal involved $48,000. The Gordon-Smith Company handled the Powell end of the exchange.

John S. Campbell has sold to Mrs. Frances C. Hall three properties in the Thirteenth ward, for $11,800. They consist of a lot, 50x120 feet at the southeast corner of Iowa street and Herron avenue; a lot, 50x150 feet, in Iowa street, adjoining, and another lot, 50x170 feet, in the west side of Herron avenue, near Iowa street. All the properties are vacant and were bought for investment.

Good Residence Sites.

On Saturday next Gleason Bros. will put on sale their Shady Place plan of lots in Versailles and Grandview avenues, McKeesport. The plan includes 73 lots, 30x100 feet each, which will be offered for sale at prices ranging from $325 to $1,200 each. The sale is likely to attract a large number of the best class of buyers, as the plan is located in an excellent residence section, and will be improved with houses costing from $4,000 to $8,000 each. Adjoining property is now being improved with paved streets, sewers and courts, which, with the improvements already on the Gleason plan, should make it an attractive proposition to buyers.

W. J. Stewart & Co. are out with the neatest and most entertaining folder of the year. It is of the "kissing bug" variety, and assures its owner that he is safe if he invests in real estate, especially of the class that the company has to sell in the Crafton plan, or anywhere else in the city.

SAYS HE WAS MISQUOTED.

Archbishop Ryan Declares He Does Not Favor Removal of Friars.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 5.—Archbishop Ryan, who returned today from his visit to President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay, said he was misquoted in regard to his attitude on the question of the retention of the friars in the Philippines.

"My position in regard to the friars in the Philippines is not that they should be expelled, which we have no right to do," he said, "but they should be left to the pope and their generals to be exchanged for members of their orders of other nationalities, especially Americans, when this can be effected. I believe that the opposition of some of the Filipinos arise from the fact that some of the friars are Spaniards."

"FRA DIAVOLO" IS NEXT AT DUQUESNE GARDEN

Auber's Opera Will Have a Splendid Presentation by Summer Opera Company Next Week.

Commencing next Monday night at the Duquesne garden, and with the usual Saturday matinee, the members of the summer stock opera company will appear in Auber's musical work, "Fra Diavolo." This presentation will mark the return of Bessie Tannehill, the favorite contralto of last season's organization, who has been engaged for the remaining weeks of opera at the garden. She will appear as Lady Allcash on Monday evening. Thomas H. Persse, the favorite tenor, will appear in the name part, which is suited to him in both voice and action.

Edith Mason, the prima donna, will be cast in the role of Zerlina and in it will doubtless add another success to her long list, as she has sung it often before. Mary Carrington, who has made such a good impression this week in "The Grand Duchess," will no doubt renew the good impression then made. R. S. Pigott, the baritone, who has won new friends by his clever work and rich baritone voice, will essay the principal baritone role of Lord Allcash. John J. Martin, the clever comedian and prime favorite, will be cast in the principal comedy part, and Charles H. Drew, the stage director, will also have an important role.

In the palm garden the special feature will be Trask and Gladden, singing and dancing comedians, presenting a refined and catchy specialty each evening after the performance of the opera. Their act is known as "The Fashion Plates," and has been highly commended.

TROUBLE FOR BUTCHERS.

Dairy and Food Commissioner Cope Threatens Suits in Pittsburgh for Adulterations.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 5.—Dairy and Food Commissioner Cope is preparing to bring suit against several large Pittsburgh meat dealers for alleged violation of the state pure food law, in selling preserved meats.

Analyses of samples taken by Commissioner Cope's agents in Pittsburgh and Allegheny during the latter part of July show that large quantities of hamburg steak, pork sausage, chopped meats and winter sausage, doctored with sulphites, are being sold in these cities.

Mr. Cope asserts that sulphites are more injurious to health than boracic acid and as soon as the papers can be prepared suit will be brought against the dealers from whom the samples were obtained.

Samples of potted turkey taken in Pittsburgh by the agents show that it is loaded with starch, which may not be injurious to health, but is forbidden by law.

PAPA—Oh, what a pain! I believe I have a fever in the heart. MAMMA—Nonsense, it isn't your heart, it's your stomach. Every time you eat this hot weather, you get a sour stomach full of hot gases and acids, and you swell up until your heart hardly has room to beat. If you were not so obstinate, you'd take my advice and keep your insides cool by taking a CASCARET Candy Cathartic every night before going to bed. They work while you sleep and keep you regular in the hottest weather. 563
